STRIKES AND DISORDERS IN SPAIN GROW

All Country in State of Ferment—Revolt Movement Under Control

SOCIALISTS UNITE WITH SYNDICALISTS

ZARAGOZA, Spain, March 29 (AP).—All Spain was in a state of ferment, tonight, as Syndicalists and Socialists joined in a revolutionary strike here, but the military forces controlled the situation.

The movement was announced as a protest against the alleged treatment to which were subjected prisoners held for bombings, Monday, which took the lives of four persons.

Zaragoza has been a stronghold of the Syndicalists for months, and was the scene of a revolt in December, in which more than 100 persons were killed.

TROUBLE ELSEWHERE

In other parts of the country there were indications of trouble, as minor disturbances occurred.

A few hours before the movement began here, the Cabinet in Madrid decided to push a bill through Parliament, re-establishing the death penalty for armed assault and robbery, bombings and sabotage against public works.

Armed troops were sent out into the streets as soon as the strike was declared. Orders were issued for military patrols, under provisions of a state of alarm, similar to martial law. Street cars and taxis were withdrawn from the streets to prevent any damage to them.

SPECIAL GUARDS PLACED

"The strike is illegal and revolutionary," declared the governor of Zaragoza Province, one of the most important in Northwestern Spain. He assigned special guards to the public services.

S.P.A. BILL IS PASSED

Pattullo Government Pushes Measure Through Third Reading—Awaits Assent

Battering down all the further amendments and winning three divisions in as many minutes, the Pattullo Government pushed the Special Powers Bill through third reading and enactment, subject to assent, at the morning sitting of the House. The Government was sustained on the measure by divisions of 34 to 13; 34 to 12, and 30 to 13; final passage coming with every member present in his seat and the highest majority of the entire session to date, 34 to 13.

Argument was eliminated as the Government advanced the S.P.A. from committee stage to report for third reading. R. W. Bruhn (Independent, Salmon Arm), moved to strike out the private nature in the province, and also to conserve to Parliament the right to repeal S.P.A. measures at pleasure. Both motions lost by 12 to 34.

Rev. Robert Connell, leader of the Opposition, called for division on the main vote, third reading, when the S.P.A. was sustained as amended by the Government itself by 34 to 13. Inside half an hour, the entire measure was through, and awaited only assent by the Lieutenant-Governor.

BARBADOS FIRE WASTING CROPS

Hundreds of Acres Swept by Flames—Scores of Sugar Estates Menaced

BRIDGETOWN, Barbados, March 28 (CP).—Flames were roaring tonight through a group of plantations in St. George's district, fanned by a high wind and spreading scores of sugar estates throughout the fertile countryside.

Sweeping along over a wide front, the fire had laid to waste 300 acres early this evening, and it was still advancing swiftly. Charred crops and destroyed farming equipment lay all along its two-mile wide front. No homes had been destroyed, however, and no person was endangered by the flames.

SENATE FOLLOWS SUIT WITH VOTE OVERRULING PRESIDENT

Takes Active Part in Promoting Trade With South Africa

CAPETOWN, March 28 (CP via Reuters).—Prime Minister R. B. Bennett, of Canada, was consulted throughout the negotiations which resulted in giving the contract for carriage of citrus fruits to Canada, to the British Elder-Dempster and the Danish Lauritzen Company Steamship Lines.

The Canadian Prime Minister, it was revealed today, had approved the arrangement, being cordially in support of any steps toward direct shipments of Canadian imports from South Africa and other Dominions.

Fruit sailings will be fortnightly, starting in July, each vessel carrying between 15,000 and 20,000 cases.

Ribbons Beaten By Mainlanders In Final Battle

Canadian Champions Dethroned by Vancouver Province in Fifth Fixture of British Columbia Senior "A" Series 30-25—Locals Play Good Ball and Lead at Half 16-14

VANCOUVER, March 28 (CP).—Unable to cope with the closing rally that brought the Mainland titleholders from behind for the first time in the contest, Victoria Blue Ribbons, 1933 basketball champions of Canada, passed from the Dominion play-offs by dropping a 30-25 decision to the Vancouver Province quintette in the fifth game of the British Columbia finals here, tonight.

Led by Russ Kennington, diminutive forward, the local hoop squad pressed through the Victoria defence to net two baskets and free throw in the last three minutes, clinching the provincial crown. For thirty minutes the Island team played superlative ball that kept the Province quintette continuously on the defensive, but willed as the news broke to tie the count and forge ahead.

Province opened the game with a rush on the Blue Ribbons basket that just failed to count. Purves had an opportunity to put the locals up when he was fouled by Chuck Chapman, but missed both of the free throws awarded. Armstrong finally broke the ice by sinking a shot from under the hoop to put the Mainland champions two points up, but Chuck Chapman was in with a nice effort a minute later to open the Victoria score and even the count.

The collision occurred today in a dense fog. The Mandu sent out two messages, one advising Lloyds at New York that she was not in need of assistance and would try to reach Baltimore by tomorrow. The Garnet Hulling sent out no messages and the extent of the damage she received, if any, could not be learned.

TWO OTHERS ASHORE

Two other ships were driven ashore today as a result of the dense fog along the Atlantic seaboard. The Oye Steamship Company's Marore, bound light from Baltimore to Chile, went ashore in Chesapeake Bay, near Smith's Point. The Norfolk, Baltimore & Carolina steamer Albemarle went ashore in North Landing River. Neither the Marore nor the Albemarle was considered in any immediate danger.

ARRESTED AFTER LAPSE OF YEARS

Man Jailed on Poaching Charge—Alleged to Be Escaped Mail Robber

EDMONTON, March 28 (CP).—Alleged to have escaped from Leavenworth Penitentiary, Leavenworth, Kansas, in April, 1910, James Fahey is in Royal Canadian Mounted Police cells here pending extradition proceedings. Fahey is alleged to have been serving a life term for mail robbery at the time of his escape.

The man, who is said to have a wife and family residing at Jasper, Alberta, was arrested in Jasper recently on a poaching charge. He has lived at Jasper for several years. Extradition proceedings will commence here next Tuesday.

Wide Powers Over Provincial Finances Delegated to Gov't

Herbert Anscomb, M.P.P., Brands Amendments to Act as Repudiation

McGEER MOTION IS LOST ON DIVISION

Being the chief fiscal policy bill of the session, amendments to the Revenue Act, providing blanket powers for the refunding of provincial debt, and borrowing powers for actual and anticipated deficits, passed through third reading, and enactment in the Legislature, last evening, after a brief but hot debate.

The refunding bill was under fire from two directions, because it gave authority to interfere with the maturities of existing bonded indebtedness on the one hand, and on the other, because it did not also provide for the refunding of municipal debts as well as provincial obligations.

EXPLAINS MEASURE

Hon. John Hart explained that the bill authorized the Government to refund provincial obligations, when this was found possible, with the exception of inscribed stock at London. Other than refunding the bill empowered the Government to borrow for deficits on current operations, specifically in the case of $5,962,128 outstanding from the fiscal year 1932-33, and otherwise in respect to deficits for 1933-34, and for the deficit budgeted this year, 1934-35.

Herbert Anscomb (Independent, Victoria), attacked the measure, on the ground that it gave the Government power to interfere with holders of existing securities, and consequently sinking funds now expressly securing individual issues. The Government could change the date of existing securities, and make them callable in violation of the contract with the security holders.

It was an act of direct repudiation to retire a bond issue at other than its contracted date, he declared. Continued on Page 2, Column 2

WILL EXTEND CHARTER TIME

Legislature Approves Principle of Plan to Bring Stewart Rail Route

By division of thirty-one to ten, the Legislature, yesterday, approved the principle of extending the charter rights of the Canadian Northern Railway Company to build a railway along the line of the Portland Canal from Stewart. Introduced as a Government measure, and supported by the Ministry, the bill to extend time to the commencement of the road was given second reading at the afternoon sitting, after discussion morning and afternoon.

It was explained that the charter is held now by interests identified with the Consolidated Mining & Smelting Company of Canada, which has spent considerable sums in development and exploration of mineral deposits in the Stewart area.

PERIOD OF TIME

The bill gives railway concern nine months in which to start construction, as previously authorized by the Province about 1924, and since renewed, three months of the end of that time for active construction, before application for a further extension of time not to exceed five years for completion of the line.

French and British Drawing Nearer in Disarmament Views

Former Demand for Guarantees to Be Confined to Europe, Paris Declares—Drafting Reply to London Defining Exact Requirements

LONDON, March 28 (CP).—The British and French points of view on the question of a disarmament treaty, were tonight reported to be gradually drawing closer. The French are now said to admit that their demands boil down to guarantees of the execution of the Disarmament Convention that may be signed, and do not contemplate any agreement to take action against an actual aggressor—something the British refuse to consider.

It is understood, further, that the French have assured the British that the guarantees of execution they demand as the price for signing an arms limitation treaty would be confined to Europe, including Russia.

DRIFTING ANSWER

Louis Barthou, French Foreign Minister, is now drafting an answer to the British question as to what definite guarantees of execution of an arms pact the French want.

Meanwhile, it was learned tonight, the meeting of the World Disarmament Conference's steering committee will go on on April 10 as planned. The entire Cabinet, today, discussed the attitude of the French Government in regard to the guarantees it demands as the price for signing any disarmament convention, but no information was forthcoming as to the Cabinet's stand.

PARIS POLICE OBTAIN CLUE TO MURDER

Light Appearing on Prince Mystery After Weeks of Fruitless Search

NOT YET READY TO ANNOUNCE SOLUTION

PARIS, March 28 (AP).—Police revealed tonight they had uncovered a clue to the murder of Judge Albert Prince, noted French jurist, who was to have testified in the famous Stavisky case.

After a fruitless search of five weeks police said they believed the trail led to what they described as a mafia among Paris gangsters.

Three witnesses were closely questioned all day and all night in Paris and another at Marseilles, their statements being quickly checked one against the other.

Judge Prince was the man who "knew all" in the Stavisky scandal, his crushed and broken body was found on a railroad embankment near his home in Dijon on the night before he was to have appeared as a witness in the investigation of the delay in the French courts of the Stavisky case.

Police, reticent as to results so far, said the Prince murder mystery had been definitely revived, but admitted they were not yet ready to announce a solution of the entire affair.

LINKED WITH SHIP FIRE

LONDON, March 28 (AP).—The Daily Mail said today that prolonged investigations had resulted in connecting the name of Serge Stavisky, the late French pawnshop magnate, and the organization he was alleged to have controlled, with the burning of the liner Atlantique in the English Channel on April 1, a year ago, in which eighteen persons perished.

The paper also said that insurance underwriters had decided to press to the utmost their appeal against an order of the Paris courts that they pay the total amount of the loss entailed in the vessel's burning.

MILL RATE IS STRUCK

City Council Adopts Proposal Advanced by Mayor to Balance Budget

After three weeks of battling, the City Council, yesterday afternoon, voted to strike this year's tax rate at forty-one mills. This means that $237,000 of serial debentures will have to be refunded, $140,000 of a draft taken from the sinking fund, and that the sinking fund will have to fall in default this year.

The forty-one mill rate was struck on the proposal made by Mayor Leeming, who, in recommending the course, said he hoped that this would be the last year in which property holders would be asked to bear so heavy a burden of taxation.

Alderman F. R. Brown, chairman of the finance committee, offered the only dissenting vote to the forty-one mill rate. He had offered an amendment that the rate be struck at forty-two mills and that the tax on improvements be raised from 60 to 66-2/3 per cent.

ADJUST WAGES

After striking the mill rate, the council adopted the special estimates committee report and asked the comptroller to bring in a new draft of the budget, in which provision would be made to give employees on the outside staff two weeks' vacation with pay. Last year they only got one week's vacation with pay. The change in the council's policy was brought about as the instigation of Alderman Andrew McGavin and Alderman R. A. G. Dewar.

The special estimates committee brought in a list of recommendations with regard to revising the estimates that in the aggregate provided a net reduction of about $18,000.

READY TO CALL FOR MAIL BIDS

Former Holders of U.S. Air Contracts Must Reorganize Before Tendering

WASHINGTON, March 28 (AP).—New bids for temporary air mail contracts were asked by the United States Postoffice Department today, but companies that formerly held the awards must first reorganize and remove officers who attended the now-famous 1930 air mail conference before they can compete.

"Temporary contracts with commercial aviation companies for transporting air mail will be made within the next three weeks," Postmaster-General James Farley said in a statement.

Advertisements for bids to be made within the next fifteen days are to be sent out within the next day or two.

Hitler Insists on Peace in Church

BERLIN, March 28 (AP).—Chancellor Hitler gave Reichsbishop Ludwig Mueller to understand this evening that by May 1 there must be peace within the strife-racked Protestant Church.

The Chancellor's demand, which was much like an ultimatum, was made shortly after the bishop attempted, in a pastoral letter, to end the months-long controversy over leadership and teachings.

ITALY MAKING FARM STUDIES

Vast Research Work Designed to Make Nation Self-Supporting

ROME, March 28 (AP).—To make Italy as self-sustaining agriculturally as possible, the National Research Council pressed forward today a comprehensive programme of experiments to increase production. Such widely-varying studies as the electrical treatment of seeds and the exact relation between nutrition and man's capacity for work are embraced in the investigations. Already success has been claimed in an effort to bring wheat production up to the level of consumption, and said Guglielmo Marconi, the inventor, who is president of the council, a satisfactory conclusion is in sight for the related activities.

TREATMENT OF SEEDS
The treatment of seeds by electricity, he declared today, has been tried on a wide scale to enhance their productivity. More than 3,000 individual experiments have been carried out in this field under the direction of the council. Investigations into the possibility of raising medicinal plants, he reported, have led to the assurance that in many instances Italy can cease importing drugs and become an exporter.

Scientists engaging in the council's work have formed a chain of twelve university laboratories to study the food values of various farm products and find new uses for them.

AT DISPOSAL OF COUNCIL
New agricultural communities, such as Littoria, which Premier Mussolini has created on reclaimed swamp lands, have been put at the disposal of the council for research purposes, among their thousands of inhabitants. A close check is being kept on the colonizers to ascertain how well they have been able to acclimate themselves in the malaria-infested regions, and what effect the new environment has on social conditions and livelihood. Tests are being carried out constantly with the intensified fertilization of land of heretofore low productive capacity and, in many cases, Marconi said, promising results have been achieved.

MARCHING UP FROM SLOUGH

Canadian Business Puts Depression Behind on Way to Prosperity

VANCOUVER, March 28 (CP).—Steadily Canadian business is marching up the hill on the far side of the vale of depression. From Prince Edward Island to British Columbia the trend is upward, according to Henry Detchon, of Winnipeg, general manager of Canadian Credit Men's Trust Association, Ltd.

Mr. Detchon is fresh from a trip in the Maritime Provinces. He says business conditions there are better than in any other part of Canada, with one exception. The exception is British Columbia.

"Of the five years which have passed since 1929, last year was the best," Mr. Detchon said.

FAIR ON THE ROAD
"In the Maritime Provinces business has come back to a position not quite normal as yet, but far on the road to it. All our members in the Maritimes are doing better business. Take lumber. Stocks were sold out and last fall men went to the woods. The air is full of the smell of new lumber and the offices have orders for it."

"Coal pits have been busy all winter. Sydney Steel Mills have enough orders to keep them working for a long time. Nova Scotia has disposed of a bumper apple crop at advantageous prices. The price of fish is the weakest spot. Yes, the Maritimes are better off than any part of Canada with the exception of British Columbia."

FACTORIES BUSIER
"In Quebec and Ontario factories are busier than they have been in five years. Their orders from the West are double, threefold, those of last year. They are not collecting money for old debts, owing to moratorium legislation on the Prairies, but cash is rolling in on new orders. On the Prairies one does not have to look past the increased price of wheat for a reason for better times."

"In British Columbia I find consistent reports of better business. Undoubtedly your mining has been a great factor in the recovery. Your export business is another factor."

WHOLESALE INFLUENCE
Mr. Detchon attended some of the price investigation sessions in Ottawa, and thinks whatever action follows it is bound to have a wholesale influence.

"It is evident that the Dominion Government is determined to do something," he said. "What it will do I don't think it yet knows, but I personally believe the one thing will be to bring down the price of wheat for a reason for better times."

HOW MEMBERS VOTED
The division stood as follows: For Mr. Detchon's amendments: Messrs. Savage, Bakewell, Anderson, Swales, E. E. Winch, Bruhn, Pooley, Uphill, Connell, H. E. Winch and Gillis (Liberal, Yale), 11.

Practised With Wife As Target

British Government Making Bold Bid to Reduce Traffic Accidents

SAN JOSE, Cal., March 28 (CP).—Matrimonial ties were asked out here, because of the alleged ambition of a husband to become an accurate knife thrower.

In a divorce complaint filed by Mrs. Enis Della Magliore, against Salvatore Della Magliore, she declared her husband compelled her to stand against the wall while he sent knives hurtling across the room to land themselves in the wood beside her.

The fatality increased from 6,687 in 1932, while the number of injured rose from 206,450 to 216,328, and accidents from 184,006 to 191,782. The increases were all in England and Wales, Scotland's figures remaining stationary.

One feature of the new bill is the reintroduction of a fixed speed limit of thirty miles an hour in urban areas, these being designated as "dangerous" areas. Power is given to the Government to limit the use of motor trucks and they are required to carry a special colored disc for identification.

New applicants for driving licenses must pass a stiff test of competence, but, on the other hand, pedestrians are liable to members of the public to prescribe street crossing places for them.

If the bill does not succeed in reducing the toll of accidents, then more stringent measures will be used, it is intimated.

AGRICULTURAL STRIDES MADE
J. B. Munro Tells How Science Is Winning Battles With Nature

Science's continual battle against nature, and the development of wheat in Canada were graphically described by J. B. Munro, deputy minister of agriculture of British Columbia, at the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce last night.

Just as fast as nature upsets man-developed projects today, science overcomes the obstacles put in the way by nature. In many points in British Columbia, as well as throughout the entire Dominion, there are thousands of men at work in the interests of agriculture generally, the speaker explained.

PROGRESS MADE
Referring to the many pessimistic reports about the future for wheat, Mr. Munro declared such predictions are false, and went on to state that all agriculturists and scientists in that field look optimistically to the future. Just as there has been so much progress made in agriculture within recent years, there will be greater advances to come.

To assist in growing the wheat, fertilizer is plentiful everywhere, it was pointed out. Mr. Munro showed that a prophecy by Sir William Crookes in 1880 to the effect that nitrogen would be taken from the air and instilled into the ground, is today being fulfilled.

Today, barren, waste and boggy lands are being reclaimed by the agriculturists through irrigation and drainage, Mr. Munro said. It is also now possible for Government experts to test ground as to its future worth even before drainage is brought about, he added.

Canada's first growing of better quality wheat, which took place outside the early provinces of Quebec and Ontario, began about 1860 by David Pyle. He imported wheat from Scotland and found, after planting, that there was one special grade in his crop. He took this and developed it into what is known today as Red Pyle. However, this variety did not prove hardy enough in the Prairie climates, and after many years of Government research, the Marquis and the Prelude varieties were brought into being. Each of these, however, possessed weaknesses. In the end the "almost perfect" variety, the Reward, was developed. It is a popular throughout Canada because of resistance to rust and other wheat scourges, and possesses an unusual hardiness.

Walter Miles offered the thanks of the association to Mr. Munro at the conclusion of the address.

SENATE OVERRULES PRESIDENT'S VETO

"Sixty-three to twenty-seven, the bill is passed," Garner shouted. The over-riding means that approximately $90,000,000 to $100,000,000 will be returned to Great War Veterans and Spanish-American War veterans annually without review of their disabilities of service origin. The President had held out for temporary restoration of the veto, but the rolls pending review of the cases to eliminate the underserving. It also means Government employees who had their salaries cut 15 per cent by the Economy Act will get back 5 per cent, or $26,000,000, as of February 1 to July 1, and another 5 per cent for the next fiscal year, or about $126,000,000.

REASON FOR VETO
In his veto message the President said the bill provided $228,000,000 more than budgeted for the new fiscal year without suggesting ways of producing new revenues to meet the added expense.

The regulations issued today by the President restoring, pending review, 20,000 Great War presumptive cases at 75 per cent of former compensation, and thousands of Spanish War Veterans and their widows and orphans at a like 75 per cent, who were also included from the rolls because of lack of proof of service origin for their injuries.

APPEARED IN VAIN
Senators Joseph Robinson, of Arkansas, the Democratic leader, and Pat Harrison, of Mississippi, heads of the finance committee, in fervent appeals, asked the Senate to stand by the President and not endanger the confidence of the people in him at this time.

The Prairie Provinces in 1931 had two and a half times as many turkeys as all the rest of Canada.

THREE KILLED WHEN SLIDE WRECKS TRAIN

LEMPEDES, France, March 28 (CP via Havas).—Three persons were killed and ten injured today when a train was derailed, following a landslide. The accident occurred between Biele and Aurtillac.

WILL EXTEND CHARTER TIME

Premier Pattullo outlined Government policy on the bill, stating that it was not proposed to retard legitimate development. The Canadian National Railways and the Provincially-owned P.O.E. both serving Northern areas, must fight out their own economic battles, and they no doubt would. The geographical centre of the province was forty miles north of the old G.T.P. line, and there was abundant room for all development that could be contemplated in the North. The extension of time proposed was reasonable and fair, he said.

FAITH IN NORTH
George Murray, M.P.P., renewed his plea for extension of the P.O.E. from Squamish to Vancouver, with construction of permanent construction camps along Howe Sound, and as a relief undertaking. He declared faith in the North, and urged that its development be made tributary to Vancouver. Some day, he said, whether as large as Trail would rise at Finlay Forks to serve the Northern territory.

Clive Plante, M.P.P., said he would like to see the C.P.R. extend its present Alberta rails through the Peace by Finlay Forks and Prince George to a Coast outlet in the Stikine area.

G. G. McGeer, K.C., M.P.P., opposed extension of time under the Canadian Northeastern charter, on the ground that the charter had been obtained as a special privilege, and sold to the present interests for $1,000,000. The Province was endeavoring to turn over the P.O.E. to the Canadian National, or at least to national control, and might be blocking itself by such a move, he averred. If there were any necessity for a railway from Stewart to the coast, the Government would build under national control, the senior member for Burrard concluded.

PIONEERED IN B.C.
R. B. Burns, M.P.P., favored the extension of time sought. He told of the work done by the Consolidated Mining interests in pioneering mining and metallurgical development in British Columbia. The expense in connection with the $10,000,000 fertilizer plant in 1929 had precluded possibility of rail extension at that time. The cost of $2,000,000 had been spent by the company in the North, and its sound engineering practices could only enhance proper development of the country, if it seemed to go head with the rail plan.

W. J. Asselstine, M.P.P., concurred. Now that the charter had been given, he said, it was reasonable to extend the time, so that any development found justified could be undertaken. Division followed:

For the bill—Messrs. MacDonald, Gray, Pearson, MacPherson, McKee, Wilkinson, Johnson, Putnam, Whitaker, Carson, Tupper, Weir, Sloan, Pattullo, Hart, Manson, Sutherland, Barrow, (Mrs.) Smith, Hanna, Ollila, Leary, McKee, Murray, Kenney, McDonald, Assestine and King—31.

Against the bill—Messrs. McGeer, Savage, Bakewell, Anderson, Swales, E. E. Winch, Uphill, Connell, H. E. Winch, and Price—10.

Pairs were not announced. Mrs. Paul Smith and Messrs. McPherson, Sutherland, Anscomb, Hanna and Murray were not in the House at the time of the vote.

Practised With Wife As Target

British Government Making Bold Bid to Reduce Traffic Accidents

SAN JOSE, Cal., March 28 (CP).—Matrimonial ties were asked out here, because of the alleged ambition of a husband to become an accurate knife thrower.

In a divorce complaint filed by Mrs. Enis Della Magliore, against Salvatore Della Magliore, she declared her husband compelled her to stand against the wall while he sent knives hurtling across the room to land themselves in the wood beside her.

The fatality increased from 6,687 in 1932, while the number of injured rose from 206,450 to 216,328, and accidents from 184,006 to 191,782. The increases were all in England and Wales, Scotland's figures remaining stationary.

One feature of the new bill is the reintroduction of a fixed speed limit of thirty miles an hour in urban areas, these being designated as "dangerous" areas. Power is given to the Government to limit the use of motor trucks and they are required to carry a special colored disc for identification.

New applicants for driving licenses must pass a stiff test of competence, but, on the other hand, pedestrians are liable to members of the public to prescribe street crossing places for them.

If the bill does not succeed in reducing the toll of accidents, then more stringent measures will be used, it is intimated.

AGRICULTURAL STRIDES MADE
J. B. Munro Tells How Science Is Winning Battles With Nature

Science's continual battle against nature, and the development of wheat in Canada were graphically described by J. B. Munro, deputy minister of agriculture of British Columbia, at the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce last night.

Just as fast as nature upsets man-developed projects today, science overcomes the obstacles put in the way by nature. In many points in British Columbia, as well as throughout the entire Dominion, there are thousands of men at work in the interests of agriculture generally, the speaker explained.

PROGRESS MADE
Referring to the many pessimistic reports about the future for wheat, Mr. Munro declared such predictions are false, and went on to state that all agriculturists and scientists in that field look optimistically to the future. Just as there has been so much progress made in agriculture within recent years, there will be greater advances to come.

To assist in growing the wheat, fertilizer is plentiful everywhere, it was pointed out. Mr. Munro showed that a prophecy by Sir William Crookes in 1880 to the effect that nitrogen would be taken from the air and instilled into the ground, is today being fulfilled.

Today, barren, waste and boggy lands are being reclaimed by the agriculturists through irrigation and drainage, Mr. Munro said. It is also now possible for Government experts to test ground as to its future worth even before drainage is brought about, he added.

Canada's first growing of better quality wheat, which took place outside the early provinces of Quebec and Ontario, began about 1860 by David Pyle. He imported wheat from Scotland and found, after planting, that there was one special grade in his crop. He took this and developed it into what is known today as Red Pyle. However, this variety did not prove hardy enough in the Prairie climates, and after many years of Government research, the Marquis and the Prelude varieties were brought into being. Each of these, however, possessed weaknesses. In the end the "almost perfect" variety, the Reward, was developed. It is a popular throughout Canada because of resistance to rust and other wheat scourges, and possesses an unusual hardiness.

Walter Miles offered the thanks of the association to Mr. Munro at the conclusion of the address.

"Sixty-three to twenty-seven, the bill is passed," Garner shouted. The over-riding means that approximately $90,000,000 to $100,000,000 will be returned to Great War Veterans and Spanish-American War veterans annually without review of their disabilities of service origin. The President had held out for temporary restoration of the veto, but the rolls pending review of the cases to eliminate the underserving. It also means Government employees who had their salaries cut 15 per cent by the Economy Act will get back 5 per cent, or $26,000,000, as of February 1 to July 1, and another 5 per cent for the next fiscal year, or about $126,000,000.

REASON FOR VETO
In his veto message the President said the bill provided $228,000,000 more than budgeted for the new fiscal year without suggesting ways of producing new revenues to meet the added expense.

The regulations issued today by the President restoring, pending review, 20,000 Great War presumptive cases at 75 per cent of former compensation, and thousands of Spanish War Veterans and their widows and orphans at a like 75 per cent, who were also included from the rolls because of lack of proof of service origin for their injuries.

APPEARED IN VAIN
Senators Joseph Robinson, of Arkansas, the Democratic leader, and Pat Harrison, of Mississippi, heads of the finance committee, in fervent appeals, asked the Senate to stand by the President and not endanger the confidence of the people in him at this time.

The Prairie Provinces in 1931 had two and a half times as many turkeys as all the rest of Canada.

LOCAL DRIVERS MAY FORM UNION

Protest Lodged to Trades and Labor Council Against Treatment by Employers

Claims that city truck drivers are underpaid and are forced to do daily work overtime without extra remuneration, were made last night, in the Labor Hall, at a meeting called by the Victoria Trades and Labor Council in the interests of truck drivers and chauffeurs. Eight drivers reported on the conditions under which they work.

J. W. Casey, chairman of the meeting, who declared himself in sympathy with the men, advised them that their only solution would be in the formation of a strong union. Before the meeting adjourned, it was decided to send another gathering would be held at a later date to consider the advantages of forming a union. It was pointed out, however, that a combined union of truck drivers and chauffeurs would not function successfully, and that two separate societies would be necessary.

Where the average wage per week for truck drivers in 1929 was $23, it was in 1933 approximately $17.50. Mr. Casey pointed out. He asserted that drivers do not live today, but merely exist.

WORK TEN HOURS
One driver told that his company worked the men ten hours a day, one Sunday out of every five, and paid them between $15 and $22 a week.

The other speakers told of similar situations in their respective place of employment. In advising the drivers to unionize, Mr. Casey stated that in conversation with a number of employers he had learned that they would welcome the formation of a union in the city by the men.

Fraser Bridges in Legislature Bring Lengthy Arguments

Ladner and New Westminster Sites Favored in Two Bills Advanced Through Second Readings on Divisions—Propose Toll Concessions

IN morning and afternoon sittings yesterday, the Legislature approved second readings on both Ladner and New Westminster bridge schemes. Considerable opposition developed to the plan of giving toll concessions to private interests; and it was said at one point that the Dominion would be approached to see if it would undertake a new traffic bridge across the Fraser as a national undertaking.

By division of thirty-seven to ten, the Legislature voted to give second reading to a Government bill to amend the Fraser bridge bill, and to give second reading to a private bill to amend the Ladner bridge agreement. The division came with little discussion, and was as follows:

LADNER DIVISION
For the bill: Messrs. MacDonald, Gray, Pearson, MacPherson, Weir, Sloan, Pattullo, Hart, McKee, Wilkinson, Johnson, Putnam, Whitaker, Carson, Tupper, Manson, Sutherland, Barrow, (Mrs.) Smith, Hanna, Gillis, Leary, McPherson, King, Assestine, McDonald, Kenney, Murray, MacKay, Strachan, Harris, Burns, Wismer, Anson, Anson, Burns, Uphill, Connell, H. E. Winch, Price, Bakewell, Anderson, Swales, and E. Winch—ten.
Against the bill: Messrs. McKee, Savage, Uphill, Connell, H. E. Winch, Price, Bakewell, Anderson, Swales, and E. Winch—thirteen.

Against the bill: Messrs. McKee, Savage, Uphill, Connell, H. E. Winch, Price, Bakewell, Anderson, Swales, and E. Winch—thirteen.
Premier Pattullo explained that the Ladner bill in its present form is considered by the Government as one to modify the Ladner pact, and not an amendment measure. It was on this understanding second reading followed, at the morning sitting.

At the afternoon sitting, the Ladner modification bill was completed in committee. As finally amended, the bill withdraws a preamble criticizing the original Ladner agreement, and changes the agreement annulment to one of modification as already outlined by the Government.
Also, at the afternoon sitting, the new Fraser Bridge Company's bill, which private interests offered to build a traffic bridge at New Westminster, to cost up to $3,500,000, in return for the right to collect tolls for its operation. It was also proposed that surplus earnings be set up within the Province, to maintain toll rates when necessary, and to later purchase the bridge on a re-capture clause for public use.

Murder Has Toronto Police Baffled

FOUND dead beside his car in the early morning, Cleland Russell (inset) of Toronto, was found by police to have been mysteriously murdered, his skull fractured by heavy blows. No clues were found near the scene of the crime, and police are baffled. Russell was formerly of Vancouver, where his parents and relatives still reside. He lived, as a boy, in Nanaimo and Cumberland.

G. G. McKee, K.C. (Liberal, Burrard), opposed the Fraser bill on several grounds. Exclusive franchise was asked over thirty-two miles on the Fraser River, with collection of tolls to insure entire return on an investment that might run to $3,500,000. He attacked specifically what he said was provision in the bill to hand a 15 per cent equity in the undertaking to the Fraser Bridge Company. He was opposed to the farming out of tolls to be collected to step in and stop the project, with proper negotiation, the Dominion might undertake the project as a national undertaking.

It was explained that there is a clause in the bill providing for a period of two months in which the Government can exercise its right to step in and stop the project, if negotiations for Federal financing were successful.

WOULD CLOSE STRUCTURE
R. H. Pooley, K.C. (Conservative, Esquimalt), opposed the Fraser bill on the ground that it was proposed to close the free bridge at New Westminster now operating. He agreed another bridge was necessary, but believed that if tolls were put on, they would prove inadequate, and would have to be removed within a year. The cost of the bridge amounted to a 15 per cent bonus to the promoters or contractors, he asserted.

W. W. Bruhn (Independent, Salmon Arm), opposed the Fraser bill. At $3,500,000, he said, it would cost $1,000 a day for sinking funds and interest to be financed by tolls. Of this sum about $600 a day would have to be paid by farmers and others in the Fraser Valley, for the privilege of getting to Vancouver. The Ladner proposal had been free from this objection, he concluded.

Rev. Robert Connell, leader of the Opposition, opposed the Fraser bill, declaring it intended exploitation of the public. He objected to exclusive franchise features, to abolition of the free bridge at New Westminster, and on other grounds.

If this was the first round of the new deal, it handed a lot of ace cards to private interests, observed H. G. E. Anderson (C.P.F., North Vancouver). He and other members of the C.C.F. attacked the Fraser bill.

GOVERNMENT NOT BOUND
Explaining the Government's attitude, Premier Pattullo said someone would have to build a new bridge over the Fraser River, and while it was hoped that such a scheme might be considered as a national undertaking by Ottawa, this was by no means sure. A sixty-day suspension clause in the operating part of the bill provided time for negotiation in that regard. The Government was not bound in the matter, and might refuse to enter an agreement if it decided to do so. The bill contemplated only permissive authority to proceed with the project, and, for himself, he would support the measure.

E. D. Barrow (Liberal, Chilliwack), opposed the Fraser measure, on the ground that farmers in the Fraser Valley could not afford to pay the tolls, and the largest portion of the cost would come out of their pockets. It would be an unreasonable burden to place on Fraser Valley people under present conditions. If the bill could be financed by tolls by private interests, a profit, it could be undertaken publicly at less cost and with some promise that tolls would be later eliminated. Division followed, as recorded.

EXPLAINS PROFITS
Defending the Fraser River Bridge Company's bill from hot attack at the evening sitting, Mr. Manson explained disposition of the profits, over and above carrying and maintenance charges. Ten per cent, he said, was to be allowed as the profit on the contract, and 5 per cent as a financing fee. Inside fifteen years, he predicted, the Government would own the bridge, fully paid; while 25 per cent of its cost

TRIBUTE PAID TO J. T. TAYLOR

Large Congregation at Funeral Services Held at First United Church

Impressive tribute to the late John T. Taylor, pioneer resident of Victoria, and secretary of the bakery firm of Rennie & Taylor, who passed away on Monday, was paid yesterday by a large congregation which attended the funeral services held in First United Church, of which the deceased was a prominent member.

For years Mr. Taylor had been prominent in the business life of the community, and throughout his long and successful career here he had been held in the very highest respect by all who came in contact with him.

The funeral rites were conducted by Rev. Dr. W. G. Wilson, pastor of First United Church, assisted by Rev. J. P. Hicks, who had known Mr. Taylor for many years.

Mr. Hicks paid a eulogy to the deceased, alluding to the kindly disposition possessed by him and the sterling integrity which was always in evidence in connection with his business dealings. The speaker alluded to the way in which Mr. Taylor had ever been ready to lend a helping hand to any who stood in need.

LIVED WORTHY LIFE
The passing of a man like Mr. Taylor in the full span of years carried with it, after the life he had lived, the ready assurance that he had gone to his reward. The assurance of the Saviour of the world of the hereafter was something upon which they could rely, and there should be no mourning in the assurance of a glorious resurrection.

Dr. Wilson, during the progress of the service, referred to the gift which came from the presence in the community of a man of the splendid character possessed by the deceased.

During the service, Miss Dorothy Parsons and Frank Tuppen sang "Some Day the Silver Cord Will Break."

EMPLOYEES PRESENT
The bakers and drivers of the firm of Rennie & Taylor, the firm which was the deceased's life, and with which the deceased had been associated throughout its existence from a small beginning many years ago, attended in a body. There was also present the membership of the Capital City Commercial Club, of which Mr. Taylor had been one of the originators.

The pallbearers were D. W. Hanbury, R. Jenkins, A. Cowan (Vancouver), F. Popham, I. Culross, W. T. Gillingham, W. Humberstone and J. Land. Interment was made in Royal Oak Burial Park.

The floral tributes were exceptionally numerous and of specially appropriate design.

WAS BURIED YESTERDAY

The funeral of Lawton Dawson was held yesterday afternoon. Relatives and an unusual large gathering of friends attended the service, which was conducted by Rev. Canon John. The pallbearers were Captain C. F. L. Money, and Jack Rivers, representing the Army and Navy Veterans' Auxiliary. The casket, draped with the Union Jack, was covered with many floral tributes. The hymns sung were "Rock of Ages" and "Nearer, My God, to Thee." The pastor, Rev. Canon John, presided. The service was held in the presence of the Army and Navy Veterans' Auxiliary, and Navy Veterans, also attended. Interment took place in Colwood Burial Park.

CITY WILL SEEK RATE REDUCTION

Mortgagees of Waterworks System to Be Approached for Cut in Principal

The City Council yesterday decided to approach the mortgagees of the Goldstream waterworks system with a view to securing a reduction in the interest rate and the principal sum.

This was decided upon when a motion was put to the meeting by Alderman Andrew McGavin, and seconded by Alderman Walter Loney.

Both sponsors felt that there were several points on which the request for a lowering of the principal sum could be asked. The chief point was the loss of revenue to the city from the sale of timber. The company had over-estimated the amount of timber on the watershed, the aldermen contended.

Mrs. E. Munro Is Taken by Death In Mainland City

According to advices received here, yesterday, Mrs. Elsie Munro, aged fifty-three years, of 753 Port Street, passed away in Vancouver, Tuesday. She was born in Fife-shire, Scotland, and came to Victoria twenty-one years ago, from Winnipeg.

She is survived by one son, William, 1120 Blanshard Street; one sister, in Los Angeles, and a brother, James Reekie, Medicine Hat. Funeral services will be conducted Saturday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, at the S. J. Curry & Son Funeral Home. Rev. E. F. Church will officiate and interment will be made in Ross Bay Cemetery.

TWO DAYS FOR SHOT AT HUSBAND

Woman Convicted in Vancouver of Intent to Inflict Grievous Bodily Harm

VANCOUVER, March 28 (CP).—Mrs. Josie Celona, thirty, was convicted by an Assize Court jury late today on a charge of shooting her husband, Joe Celona, with intent to inflict grievous bodily harm.

She was sentenced by Chief Justice Aulay Morrison to two days, the time she had spent in custody while waiting release on bail after her arrest following the shooting.

Mrs. Celona, according to statements made to police, shot Celona in his house, West Broadway, on the night of December 12 last.

Neither Mrs. Celona nor her husband testified. No witnesses were called for the defence.

Two hours after the alleged shooting Celona called Dr. M. Fox, East Hastings Street, for a first wound on the hip and explained he received it when a gun he was cleaning accidentally went off.

Declaring the accused had no right to take the law into her own hands, Chief Justice Morrison charged the jury for conviction.

SEEK CHANGE IN POLICING

Ratepayers' Association Wants Provincial Patrol in Saanich

Following the lead of Ward Seven and Four Associations, Saanich Ward Two non-political ratepayers' body, last night, in Tolmie School, advocated Provincial policing of the municipality, instead of the present municipal force.

Edward Wilkinson, president of the Ward Seven Association, which organization took the lead in the matter, explained that he had secured figures from the Provincial Police, which showed a saving to the municipality of more than $45,000.

Mr. Wilkinson stated that although Reeve Crouch had declared the "figure" to be "bunk," he felt that the estimates would be lower than those of the municipal force. He gave a detailed account of the estimated savings.

A lengthy discussion on the matter was held, and the association finally decided to approach the Saanich Police Commission.

A letter will be sent to the municipal council, showing where the alleged saving could be made.

WATERLOO BRIDGE TO BE REPLACED

New London County Council Changes Plans of Predecessor—Old Bridge Slowly Sinking

LONDON, March 28 (CP).—The Battle of Waterloo Bridge is to be fought again. The London County Council's new Labor majority proposes building an entirely new bridge capable of carrying six lanes of traffic.

For ten years, Waterloo Bridge, the noblest in London and possibly in all Europe, has been slowly sinking into the Thames. Today it presents a pitiable spectacle in its wooden "crutches," surrounding the pillars.

The old council had resolved to have this architectural masterpiece replaced by strengthening and widening it.

Want Hours Changed—A petition from forty-five members of the City Hall staff was presented to the council yesterday. The petition asked that the office hours be changed from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. to 8 a.m. to 4 p.m., and from 8 a.m. to 12 noon on Saturdays. The matter was referred to the finance committee for report.

"DIE-HARDS" GET MORE SUPPORT

Provincial Police Officers to Give Testimony in Trial at Spokane

To give evidence at Spokane next Wednesday, at the trial of Robert Cress, notorious "badman" throughout the Pacific Northwest, who is held on a theft charge, Provincial Police Staff-Sergeant C. G. Barber and Constable Robert Holliday will leave shortly for the United States.

Besides the charge of stealing revolvers from the Spokane Armories, Cress is expected to answer for an alleged murder attempt of the night watchman.

A Virginian, Cress has had a chequered career in the boundary district of British Columbia for many years. In 1924 he was implicated with his brother, Joseph, in holding up an alleged liquor runner named Dockstader. A large quantity of liquor was seized, Dockstader's automobile taken, and the victim and his son bound to a tree for some hours. The Cress brothers were captured by the Provincial Police and sentenced to penitentiary terms.

Subsequently, Robert Cress figured in the news on different occasions, and in November of 1932 made his escape from the Nelson Provincial Police Jail. Captured and convicted of escape from custody, he was sentenced to a year's imprisonment. On his way to the Coast he jumped through a train window into deep snow, and searchers were many days in locating him.

In December of last year, he was convicted at McLeod, Alberta, for breaking and entering, and was sentenced to eighteen months' imprisonment. He successfully appealed the decision.

Social Activities and Notes of Personal Interest

Excellent Performance Is Given by Students

Pupils of Esquimalt High School Are Enthusiastically Received On First Night's Showing of Sir James Barrie's "Quality Street"

Students of the Esquimalt High School, last night, did credit both to themselves and to those responsible for their training in their initial presentation of Sir James Barrie's "Quality Street" and a large and enthusiastic first night audience at the Lamson Street School Auditorium registered its approval in generous measure.

Although none of those taking part in the performance of one of the world's best-known and loved productions were more than seventeen years of age, their demonstration, both of acting ability and clearness of diction, was most pleasing. Speaking generally, while criticism could be made of minor details, such aspects were far overshadowed by the excellent manner in which the actors handled their parts as a whole and the almost perfect manner in which the entire play was presented.

OUTSTANDING PLAYERS

The two outstanding characters, Miss Phoebe and Miss Susan Throssel, on whom the bulk of the action and dialogue devolves, were portrayed by Miss Robina Norton and Miss Margaret Lennox respectively. Both these young ladies displayed a form not merely limited to clarity of diction and thorough knowledge of lines, but the ability to act seldom seen in such youthful performers. Their work throughout was excellent, especially in view of the fact that either one or the other appears in every sequence of the play and that both are forced to show character changes brought about by the passage of years. They well deserved the ovation they were both given after the last curtain.

The other major character, Valentine Brown, played by Carson Pecknold, is that of a dashing young man of that period, who enlists and fights in the Napoleonic Wars. Pecknold, particularly in the early part of the play, gave a fine performance, and if any criticism could be made of his acting, it was that in the latter part, when he was aged by ten years and lost a hand in the wars, he still appeared somewhat young. In spite of this, however, he turned in a most creditable performance throughout.

DID FINE WORK

While every other character in the play, no matter how small their parts, was excellent, these three young players were undoubtedly outstanding in every respect. Others who did fine work were Margaret Hunter, as Patty, the faithful maid of the two Miss Throssels; Doris Lockley, as Miss Willoughby; Kathleen Greer, as Miss Fanny Willoughby; and Beatrice Baker, as Miss Charlotte Parrot; Edward Morrison, as the recruiting sergeant; Douglas McIntyre, as Ensign Blades; Robert Trowsdale, as Lieutenant Spicer; William Stewart, as Major Linkwater. Among those taking the parts of the children in the Throssel School, fine work was done by Gladys Pea, as Isabella, and John Shiner, as Arthur Wellesley Thomson. Others who took minor parts were Barbara Crane, Agnes Stephenson, Marquette Hinkman, Doran Kent-Fawkes, Margaret Ord, Donald Walker, Peter Piddington, Iala Neelands, Donald Walker, Aline Breen, Evelyn Eya, Jack Pullen, Frances Smith and Leslie Mills.

Although credit is due to the pupils themselves for the excellence of their performance, the undoubted success of the entire production was due to the fine piece of direction work done by Miss Nora Hewlings, principal of the school, whose training brought the actors and actresses to the stage of perfection demonstrated last night.

The performance will be repeated in the auditorium of the Lamson Street School tonight.

Wife Preservers

Unless your family objects to the flavor, put a small onion in each end of the roasting pan when roasting meat. It adds a nice flavor to any kind of meat.

If your hands are rough in cold weather, you may start a runner when putting on your silk stockings. Try wearing an old pair of silk gloves for this purpose.

A can of evaporated milk added to the canned tomato soup just before serving, and allowed to come just to the boiling point, will give the soup a delicious flavor.

If you pour boiling water over oranges to be peeled and let them stand a few minutes, the skin and membrane will come off easily.

Put a piece of linoleum in the cupboard where children keep their books, rubbers, skates, etc. It will protect the floor and make cleaning easier.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

DON'T USE CASTOR OIL OR OTHER PURGATIVES TOO SOON

A boy complained of a pain in his stomach and went off to bed. A neighbor present at the time suggested a good dose of castor oil, to be followed the next day with a dose of bismuth and paregoric. The idea of the treatment was that the castor oil would drive out whatever was causing the pain, but as the castor oil would cause diarrhoea, the bismuth and paregoric would stop the diarrhoea.

Now when it has been found that an individual, or preferably a number of individuals complain of pain in the majority of cases is not a and diarrhoea from eating food, the use of castor oil is good treatment, and if the diarrhoea continues for some days the use of bismuth and paregoric to allay pain and stop the diarrhoea might also be considered good sense.

However, to use castor oil at the first feeling of pain in the stomach may be very dangerous, in fact, fatal to the patient.

Why? The first symptom of appendicitis in the majority of cases is not a appendix, but a pain or heavy feeling in the stomach.

This pain, in the course of a few hours, goes down to the region of the appendix and stays there.

If castor oil or other purgative is given, and the appendix is inflamed or swollen, the purgative may rupture the appendix and cause an inflammation of the lining of the abdomen and the covering of the abdominal organs—the peritoneum.

It is an inflammation of this lining or covering that is called peritonitis, and it is peritonitis that causes most of the deaths in appendicitis.

Now this doesn't mean that castor oil or Epsom salts should not be in the drug cupboard. As a matter of fact, they are two of the most useful drugs known.

But it does mean that with a pain in the stomach, no drug other than perhaps a little baking soda should be taken until it is definitely known that the condition is not one of appendicitis.

Statistics show that most deaths in appendicitis occur where purgatives were given or where food was eaten.

tions, while practising for a roller hockey match, fell and fractured his wrist.

Cowichan Lake

Mrs. A. Kennedy recently entertained with three tables of bridge at the Riverdale Inn. The prize winners were: First, Mrs. S. Alexandra; second, Mrs. E. Hemming-sen, and third, Mrs. G. K. Gillespie.

The annual community dance was held at the Community Hall, and was well attended, a pleasing feature being the number of visitors from Up-Island points. The hall was beautifully decorated, and good music was provided. An excellent supper was provided under the supervision of Mrs. Reed, Mrs. S. Smith and Mrs. Boulet.

The income limit for unemployment insurance in England may be raised from $1,250 to $2,500 a year.

TIMBER DEAL IS RATIFIED

City Will Receive $62,500 for Approximately 40,000,000 Board Feet

The agreement to sell approximately 40,000,000 feet of timber on the Goldstream watershed to the Kapeer Lumber Company for $62,500 was ratified by the City Council at its meeting, yesterday, on the recommendation of the water committee, of which Alderman Andrew McEwen is chairman.

Under the agreement, an initial payment of $12,500 will be paid when the deeds are signed. Installments of $4,000 a month will be paid until the remaining amount has been wiped out. If the company defaults on any of the monthly payments, interest will be charged on the amount in default on a basis of 5 per cent per annum.

Monthly installments must begin within twelve months of signing the agreement, or when the company starts logging operations.

RECOMMENDS AGREEMENT

Alderman McGavin, in personally recommending the agreement, said the city had made the best of a bad bargain. By that he meant to say the taking over of the Goldstream watershed system had been a poor piece of business.

He reviewed the series of events leading up to the latest timber deal to show how the city really had lost out by some $17,000, owing to a wrong estimate having been made on the amount of timber on the watershed.

PUBLICITY GRANT ATTACKED AGAIN

Alderman R. T. Williams Attempts to Get Appropriation Cut by $5,000

The old arguments for and against reducing the Publicity Bureau grant were revived again at yesterday's meeting of the City Council, when Alderman R. T. Williams moved that the grant be cut $5,000 to provide a one-fifth of a mill reduction for the taxpayers.

Alderman McGavin said that if the alderman had proposed a $4,000 cut, he would have supported the motion. However, the resolution did not carry. The Mayor explained the chief reason why no more cuts could be made. The city, he said, could not afford to withdraw from advertising the city. The tourists had brought $1,200,000 worth of business to Victoria last year.

Furthermore, if an $8,000 cut was made, it would have to come off the licences and not the property holders, he explained.

ARIZONA WRANGLERS TO PLAY AT EMPIRE

The Arizona Wranglers, far-famed artists of the air and vaudeville, will appear Monday on the Empire Theatre stage for a four-day engagement. Under the leadership of Sheriff Loyal Underwood, they will present the songs and numbers that have set a new standard in entertainment.

Such characters as "Uncle Iron Tail," "Sleepy," "Slicker," "Nubbin," "Dynamite," are household words among all radio fans. Their renditions of cowboy songs and ballads of the old school are a distinct contribution to the world of modern music.

FINANCES OF B.C.

Sir,—Your attitude towards matters economic and financial is, I believe, the attitude of all sound business men. We, who are interested on behalf of ourselves and our clients in good government and desire neither Bolshevism, Communism, Radicalism or Dictatorships, but economy and balanced budgets, with our constitutional liberties preserved against all conflicting parties, are inclined to think that the position of British Columbia today is very much analogous to that of Newfoundland and that the best possible solution would be that the Dominion Government (as I understand it) is empowered to do under the British North America Act.

should appoint a commission to straighten out the financial and economic tangles of this province. This would be a solution in accordance with our constitution. I speak purely as a layman, open to correction, but your comment would be of value to those of us who desire sanity in our affairs.

GEORGE KITTO.

323 Sayward Building, Victoria, B.C., March 26, 1934.

FIRST RADIO STATION HERE

Sir,—I noticed in today's Times that the local radio station, CFCT, will celebrate its tenth birthday. May I be permitted to relate a few facts as to the origin and early history of this radio station?

In the early part of 1923, Dr. Clem Davies, who was pastor of Centennial Church, with the consent of the congregation, rented a broadcasting apparatus from the Marconi Company of Canada. This company had just completed building a new machine, which was forwarded to Victoria, and, under the expert guidance of Leo Main, its engineer from Vancouver, the staff of the late International Engineering School of Victoria, at that time sole agents of Vancouver Island for the Marconi receiving sets, installed the machine.

The aerial mast was placed into position by the B.C. Telephone Company on Good Friday, the work of installation being rushed day and night in order to broadcast the present radio station, CFCT, is the third radio station to be operated in Victoria, and its present power is given as fifty watts. A number of changes have been made in the apparatus since the two original panels (the oscillator and transmitter) arrived in Victoria.

This brief history may be of interest to the old-timers of radio in our city. FRANK HALL, Outtime Operator, Late Radio Station CFCL, 447 Constance Avenue, Esquimalt, B.C., March 24, 1934.

THE CHURCH'S TASK

Sir,—In your editorial on Sunday morning on "The Church's Task," you tell us that the task of the church is lessened in its significance when too much emphasis is placed on social and industrial problems.

Not so, I think, was the attitude

New Type of "Backyard" Airplane

THE strangest part of this new type "Circle" airplane is the single wing looking like a huge pancake, which is over the cockpit. It has several advantages, according to the backer, and flies at a speed of 135 miles per hour. It was tested at Chicago.

Easter Sunday services, which, incidentally, would be the first Sunday church services to be broadcast in Canada.

The Engineering School was owned and operated by Jack MacKay, who, with his two instructors, Hugh MacKay and myself, worked night and day gratis to make this radio venture a success, and a number of tests were made before we finally went on the air as Radio Station CFCL.

This was in the early days of broadcasting. KFO, San Francisco, and CFCL were the only stations on the Pacific Coast operating on 500 watts, our licence permitting us to operate as a first-class station on a wave length of 410 metres. A 500-watt station was considered a giant in those days.

The present radio station is not the pioneer station in Victoria, as many radio fans of Victoria seem to believe. A little station, situated on Fort Street at that time, of twenty watts, call letters CHCE, built and operated by the late Mr. Moffat, was the first, as many old-timers of "loose coupler" days will remember.

We had the pleasure many times of broadcasting during the same hours as Mr. Moffat's station, without the slightest interference of one station with the other, in spite of our greater power.

Many well-known singers in Victoria sang before the "mike," which in those days was more of a novelty in comparison with the business it has developed into. A fine talking machine and the latest records were loaned to the station by Fletcher Bros. Music Store, of Victoria.

After the removal of the equipment from the church, it was installed and operated from Fletcher Bros. store, but after a short stay there was removed to another location. The call letters CFCT were given after a new licence was issued.

The present radio station, CFCT (if call letters indicate a station), is the third radio station to be operated in Victoria, and its present power is given as fifty watts. A number of changes have been made in the apparatus since the two original panels (the oscillator and transmitter) arrived in Victoria.

This brief history may be of interest to the old-timers of radio in our city. FRANK HALL, Outtime Operator, Late Radio Station CFCL, 447 Constance Avenue, Esquimalt, B.C., March 24, 1934.

THE CHURCH'S TASK

Sir,—In your editorial on Sunday morning on "The Church's Task," you tell us that the task of the church is lessened in its significance when too much emphasis is placed on social and industrial problems.

Not so, I think, was the attitude of the great Founder of Christianity. Again and again, both by word and example, did He stress the importance of social service. In fact, he summed up His whole philosophy of life in the wonderful words: "Thou shalt love the Lord, thy God, with all thy heart, thy soul and thy mind," and "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself. On these two commandments hang all the law and the prophets." And, again: "Whatever ye would that men should do unto you, do ye even so to them."

Is it not true that most of our social and industrial problems would vanish were these simple rules of Christ to be applied to them?

Can you wonder then that church leaders, as they came to realize this, "are devoting a lot of time to determining the relation of religion" to these problems? As professed followers of Christ I think they can do no less.

It may not be out of place in this week, commemorative of the sufferings of Christ, to remind you of a charge brought against Him by His enemies. Said the chief priests to Pilate: "He stirreth up the people—teaching them throughout all Jewry."

Are you afraid, Mr. Editor, that the clergy, in their efforts to determine the relation of religion to our present social and political system, may stir up the people? Are you not apt to forget that there is such a thing as a righteous, perhaps even a holy stirring up of the people?

It may be that those church leaders whom you criticize have a clearer understanding of the church's task than is shown in your interesting editorial.

EMMA H. ROBINSON, 1900 Argyle Road, Victoria, B.C., March 26, 1934.

FRIENDLY HELP APPEAL

Sir,—Would you be kind enough to bring to the attention of your readers, many of whom are doubtless in the throes of Spring cleaning and Spring outfitting, the needs of some of their less fortunate fellow citizens. The Friendly Help Welfare Association, which has taken over the work of the Friendly Help Association, the Social Service League and the Victoria Citizens' Unemployed Relief Fund, is endeavoring to supply to Victoria families in need clothing and household equipment. Although we find it necessary to supply a considerable amount of new clothing to these families, we shall need, if available funds are to last the year out, to make the fullest possible use of second-hand clothing and equipment.

All clothing contributed is cleaned and removed before being distributed, but, as this involves expense we should be glad if donors would send things in washed, and where possible mended. Would donors also kindly send in only such shoes as are fit for repairing, as the handling of useless articles has proved costly?

If possible, we should be glad to have parcels brought to the office at 1234 Pandora Avenue, which is open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Arrangements can be made to collect articles that donors cannot bring in, and we would ask that in this case a telephone call be put in to G-7194.

The articles at present especially needed are as follows:

Men's suits or suit coats, pants, sweaters, underwear; women's dresses and summer coats and underwear; boys' suits, pants, sweaters and shirts; girls' dresses and coats; children's overalls and underwear; Cook stoves, tables, chairs, single and double beds and clean mattresses, floor coverings, curtains, bedding of all sorts, kitchen utensils, crockery and cutlery.

If anyone would be interested in knitting children's sweaters, ready for next Winter, we should be glad to have their name at G-7194.

KILL COUGAR AND THEN GIVE DANCE

TOFINO, March 25.—A young male cougar caused widespread excitement in Tofino, last week, among the enthusiastic hunters, by killing two goats belonging to Mr. Gibson. It was shot in the early morning, by Donald Mackenzie, after having successfully evaded the efforts of several hunters.

With the money received from the bounty, and a few public donations, the hunters staged a dance in the Legion Hall, on Saturday, March 24.

BIBLE STUDENT DENIES SELLING

W. Bone, Charged With Violation of By-Law, Defends His Actions in Court

William Bone, who, as a member of the "International Bible Students' Association," is charged in the city police court with having been guilty of selling booklets throughout the city without taking a transient trader's licence, will this morning produce in court the record of his receipts covering the day on which the offence is charged. His case was adjourned yesterday for the purpose of allowing the production of this evidence.

In the witness box yesterday, Mr. Bone denied that he was a seller of booklets. He said that he distributed these and was willing to take any contributions which people might make. With his wife he lived in the car that was used by them in the prosecution of their "mission."

He stated that he received neither salary nor commission. The books were obtained under consignment from Toronto, the association being chartered to do business in Canada. All receipts were returned to the society. He had received contributions of clothing and money. He specified the articles of clothing he had on were all given to him.

When the case was resumed in court yesterday, the police magistrate said that he found that there

WILL NOT TABLE TOBACCO REPORT

Publication of Findings on Alleged Tobacco Combine Not in Public Interest

OTTAWA, March 28 (CP).—The Government today declined to table in the House of Commons the report of Donald Sutherland, of Woodstock, Ont., into the alleged Ontario tobacco combine. Premier R. B. Bennett and Hon. Wesley Gordon, Minister of Labor, agreed it would not be in the public interest to publish the report.

Request for production of the report was made by Rt. Hon. Mackenzie King, Opposition leader. Mr. King noted that a request for the report had been placed on the order paper some time ago by Eccles (Gott (Conservative, South Essex), but for some reason Mr. Gott had allowed it to stand without pressing it.

The member for South Essex had been particularly insistent this report be brought down, replied Prime Minister Bennett. The difficulty was, however, the statute did not contemplate production of such reports.

Alexander Moore Pleads Guilty to Breaking and Entering Sidney Church

Alexander Moore, charged with having broken into the Anglican Church at Sidney, with having appropriated wine kept for Communion purposes and with having broken into the birthday contribution box used by the children there and taken the sum of money therein contained, was sentenced to six months in jail by Judge P. S. Lampman yesterday.

"The reason I stand here," said the prisoner, "is because I'm destitute. I had no place to stay but the church."

"My trouble has been that I cannot bring myself to ask for aid," added the accused.

He then informed the court that he had an opportunity which his sister living in Northern British Columbia had offered him. His sister, he said, had asked him to come to her, but the trouble was he had no money. He produced a letter, which was handed to His Honor, from the sister, and which was read by the court before disposing of the case. To the court, the accused said that he had replied to the letter from Oakalla. He had not tried to get any assistance to get to his sister. The only way to get there would be by rail.

HAD BAD RECORD
His Honor, in passing sentence, referred to the bad record which the accused had and told him that on it he would be liable to receive a penitentiary sentence. He, however, made it six months.

The trial of the accused had been set for April 3, on Tuesday, when the accused pleaded trial before the county court judge. The prisoner, however, expressed a desire to have his case disposed of without waiting until that date and accordingly Judge Lampman yesterday morning attended court and disposed of the case.

W. B. Colvin, of the Attorney-General's Department, outlined the details of the offence and recited the court record of the accused in this province extending over the period from 1924. The record showed that he had spent a considerable part of his time in jail during the intervening period. He had been convicted of breaking and entering, of vagrancy and of having broken jail.

Maunder's Cantata Is To Be Sung

The choir of the Church of Our Lord, Free Church of England, Humboldt Street, will tonight sing Maunder's Lenten cantata, "Penitence, Pardon and Peace," beginning at 8 o'clock.

This work is arranged for baritone and tenor soloists and chorus, and is interspersed with hymns to be sung by choir and congregation. The solo parts have been assigned to J. H. Kitley and Nelson Hicks. Miss Isabella Crawford, who also is assisting the choir, will sing the aria, "Jerusalem," by Mendelssohn. W. H. Davis, organist and choir-master, will have charge of the choir.

CHARMED WITH SOUTHERN ISLE

J. Imrie, Edmonton Journalist, Returns From Holiday in Hawaii

John Imrie, managing director of The Edmonton Journal and vice-president of the Canadian Press, returned to Victoria, yesterday morning, aboard the St. Empress of Canada. After spending five weeks in Honolulu, he was looking particularly well, and is now an enthusiastic booster of the charms of Hawaii. He had had an ideal vacation in ideal surroundings, he told newspaper men shortly after the big ship docked.

Sailing early in the year aboard the liner, when Edmonton was undergoing a long spell of below zero weather, the change to the soft sea air of the ocean and the tropical sun of the islands, provided a striking contrast.

Mr. Imrie saw great possibilities in the encouragement of travel between British Columbia and Hawaii. He would be an ardent advocate of a Canadian migration to the islands during the winter season, and of a tourist movement from Hawaii to Canada's Pacific Coast province in the summer time.

PROVING TRAVEL
During his stay in Hawaii, the Edmonton journalist lost no opportunity of telling everyone with whom he came in contact of our fine motor roads, different scenery, thriving cities and towns, where the opportunities for recreation were many, and in an interview with the Honolulu Advertiser he stressed the advisability of promoting travel to British Columbia and the Canadian West, which would redound to the advantage of both sections, the personal contact being by stimulating interest in the attractions both lands had to offer.

Mr. Imrie, said he was surprised at the number of Canadians he met while in Honolulu. At his hotel, there were twenty-four a few days before he left, while there were others at the Royal Hawaiian and in private lodgings. He is going direct to Edmonton, "to take off his coat," he said.

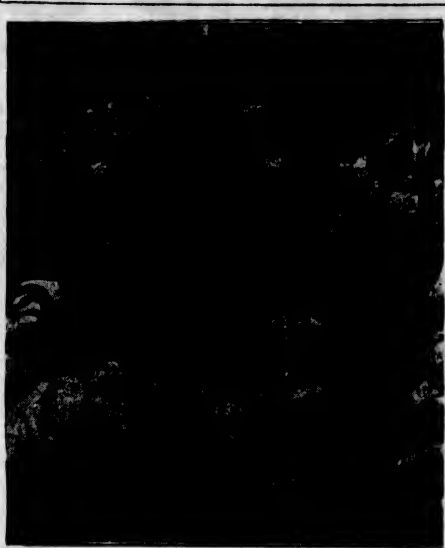

What Today Means

"ARIES"
If March 29 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 7:30 to 10:30 a.m. from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m. and from 8:30 to 10:30 p.m. The danger periods are from 10:30 to 11:30 a.m. from 1:30 to 2:30 p.m. and from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m.

This is a day that is not propitious for you to make any definite engagement, unless a loophole is left whereby you have it understood it is to be confirmed later on. If March 29 is your birthday, possessing a keen sense of humor, it might be advisable not to indulge in it at the expense of friends whom you know are inclined to be super-sensitive. You are the type that needs love to bring out your most earnest efforts, and the tender passions will cause you to accomplish more than any other incentive. In business affairs try to curb any tendency to be impatient, especially, if for some unknown reason, you have to wait an indefinite length of time for someone. Their excuse will probably be satisfactory, and by not giving vent to suppressed emotions, no bad feeling will result.

No one has the right to own an animal unless willing to give the necessary time for its proper care, and this should be impressed on the young as soon as they are old enough to assume responsibility for its welfare.

If March 29 is your natal day, do not allow yourself to develop a jealous disposition. Avoid becoming cantankerous over little things, as there are too many important things, in which no self-respecting person would care to become involved. As a rule the married life of those born on this date is decidedly successful, as the contracting parties are influenced by love and not financial considerations. Married people must give careful consideration to each other's individual rights, and neither one must try to dominate the other.

Do not confide too freely your private personal affairs to casual acquaintances. There is always the danger of having things repeated by those who do not know how to exercise discretion, and who talk simply to make conversation.

Funeral Services for Late Roderick Finlayson Tolmie Largely Attended

A big congregation, yesterday, attended the funeral service for the late Roderick Finlayson Tolmie, whose death occurred last Monday at St. Joseph's Hospital. Pioneer families were well represented, and various organizations interested in early history of Vancouver Island were also represented, such as the Native Sons of Canada, two past presidents of which attended; the Native Sons of British Columbia, represented by a past chief factor, the Saanich Pioneers, and other societies of the kind.

For many years prominent in Governmental work, and a former deputy minister of mines for British Columbia, Mr. Tolmie was remembered also by many of his Governmental colleagues. The deputy minister of mines and several delegates from the Department of Mines, were present, and the deputy minister of lands and representatives of other Governmental departments.

One of the largest individual delegations was from the Pacific Club, of which Mr. Tolmie had been a member for many years.

Rev. Canon F. A. P. Chadwick, conducted the regulation Church of England rites for the burial of the dead. The only hymn sung was "Abide With Me."

Immediately after the service, the remains were shipped to Seattle for cremation.

The late Mr. Tolmie, born in 1858, was the son of the late Dr. William Fraser Tolmie, chief factor of the Hudson's Bay post at Fort Nisqually, near what is now Tacoma.

Calgary Tigers Win Northwestern Loop Ice Hockey Honors

Defeat Vancouver Ice men 6-1 in Fifth and Deciding Game—6,000 Fans See Prairie Squad Whip Vancouver Puckchasers With Ease

VANCOUVER, March 28 (CP).—Calgary Tigers won the Northwestern Professional Hockey League championship, smothering Vancouver Ice men 6-1, here tonight, in the fifth and deciding game of the play-off final.

More than 6,000 excited fans saw the speedy young Lions, who twice came from behind to tie up the series, go down to defeat before the experience and skill of their Prairie rivals.

Tigers rapped home three goals without a return in the first period, kept on even terms with Lions in the second, when both teams scored once, and tapped off the evening with a pair of counters in the third. They missed at least four more goals in the final session when they swept down the ice three abreast with only a defence man to beat, but their passes were either wide or their shots fired from too close in.

MCUSKER STARS
Even at that, Lions would have outscored them but for the sparkling performance of Red McCusker in the net for Calgary. The red-topped veteran turned in a perfect performance with the exception of Sammy McAdam's shot, fired from a tangle of players in front of the Calgary net, which gave McCusker no chance to see the puck.

In the last period, with Lions desperate for counters, McCusker was all over the ice in front of his cage, kicking pucks out, knocking down high rebounds with his stick and dashing out of his cage fifteen or twenty feet to break up certain scoring rushes when his defence faltered.

Five of Calgary's scores were on solo efforts.
Line-ups:
Calgary—McCusker, goal; Savage, Houbreg, defence; Gairnor, centre; Harris, O'Neill, wings; Bates, Sutherland, Coupes, Blyth, Hutton.
Vancouver—Clark, goal; Arnott, Redpath, defence; Smith, centre; Mason, McAdam, wings; Sub: Palm, Kirk, Creasy, McCartney.

Referee—Carl Jacobs, Vancouver.
Summary
First Period—1, Calgary, O'Neill, 2:37; 2, Calgary, Hutton, 9:37; 3, Calgary, Harris, 15:11. Penalties: Houbreg, 12:28. Second Period—4, Vancouver, McCusker, (Smith), 2:33; 5, Calgary, Harris, 12:28. Penalties: Savage, Coupes, Arnott, Redpath. Third Period—6, Calgary, Blyth (Savage), 11:14; 7, Calgary, Coupes, 18:45. Penalty: Redpath.

PHILS' STAR SHORTSTOP ON INJURED LIST

Dick Bartell Badly Spiked as Manager Wilson Tries to Set Squad for Opener

By ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Staff Writer.
WINTER HAVEN, Fla., March 28 (AP).—Among other worries, the Phillies for years have seldom come through the Spring training session without some infield problems to solve. Just when it looked this year as though the club's aggressive new pilot, Jimmy Wilson, had this ancient jinx on the run, it bobbed up again in the form of the spiking of Dick Bartell, star shortstop, captain and sparkplug of the team.

Bartell was hurt so seriously a few days ago he may not recover in time to be in the opening game line-up, April 17. The reserves problem already is acute. Louisa Chiozza, promising Memphis recruit, is filling in for Bartell.

Wilson had been counting upon Bartell's help in developing Marty Hopkins at third, and Irvine Jeffries at second. This pair came up well-recommended from St. Paul, but they have not set the grapefruit bet on fire.
The catcher-manager's chief reliance in the forthcoming National League race is placed in his own ability to develop better pitching from a staff which was a big disappointment in 1933, and has only one real addition so far, Curtis Davis. This rangy right-hander won twenty games in "AA" company with San Francisco last year and looks to be ready to deliver.

Canadian Schoolboys To Invade Australia

Young Athletes From Dominion to Compete in Centennial at Melbourne This Year—Eliminations to Be Held in Each Province

HAMILTON, March 28 (CP).—Definite arrangements have been completed whereby Canadian schoolboys will participate in the celebration of the centennial ceremonies at Melbourne, Australia. The team will compete in Melbourne on the programme that will be part of the Melbourne centennial celebration.

With the Australian part of the project completed, a letter has been received from the New Zealand Amateur Athletic Union inviting the boys to tour that country, and if their trip is arranged, it will mean the team will be away four months instead of three.

In Australia the Canadian team will compete in twelve events, 100 and 200 yards, 440 and 880 yards, one mile, one-mile relay, 440 yards relay, 120 yards high hurdles, running long jump and running. It is estimated that the team will be needed four sprinters and four middle-distance men because of the necessity of doubling up.

COMMITTEES
The personnel of the Canadian committee is revealed as follows: E. W. Beatty, K.C., honorary chairman; T. A. Murphy, M.P.P., Toronto, chairman; J. A. Courtney, New Westminster, B.C.; Dr. C. G. Gillespie, Vancouver; John Leslie, Edmonton, secretary of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada; E. W. Griffiths, Saskatoon; Robert Orr, Winnipeg; H. J. Price, M.P.P., Toronto; M. M. Robinson, Hamilton; Dr. A. S. Lamb, Montreal; W. E. Findlay, Montreal; M. M. Rankin, Halifax; L. R. MacGregor, Toronto, Australian Trades Commissioner.

Each province in the Dominion will hold eliminations under the guidance of the national committee and will send their candidates to Toronto on June 9. The Ontario trials will be staged at Toronto on June 9. Following the trials in Hamilton the team will sail for Vancouver.

Remember When
(Twenty-Five Years Ago)
A draw, with one goal apiece, was the result of the Island League soccer match played between the Victoria United and Lady Smith teams yesterday afternoon at the Oak Bay Park. Both the points were made well on in the second half. The first came to Victoria as the result of a free kick taken by Lorimer. It went straight into the goalmouth, lightly touching several who attempted to intercept and landed in the net. The second also was the outcome of a free kick. This time, however, the offence was committed by Lorimer within the local penalty area, and McDowall, star of the visitors, made no mistake with a wicked drive. The game was not an exciting one, but was productive of some good soccer by both clubs. Any edge in the first half was in favor of Lady Smith, but their shooting when in range was not up to their usual standard.

Line-ups follow:
Lady Smith—Dougan, Roger, McDowall, Smith, McKinley, Wynn, Orranger, McGowan, Morrison, Fletcher and Sander.
Victoria—Beany, Lorimer, Prevost, Kinlock, Petticrew, Shanks, Buxton, Thomas, Seder, Okell and McGregor.

The annual meeting of the Naino Golf Club was held last night and the following officers were elected for the year: President, Dr. Brown; vice-president, J. W. Graham; treasurer, J. D. Galloway; secretary and captain, Charles Martin; committee of management, Dr. Brown, J. W. Graham, Charles Thomas, G. Brown, J. D. Galloway and J. Thompson.

The Victoria Baseball Club will hold a workout at the Oak Bay grounds this afternoon for the first time this season. It was announced yesterday by club officials. Their training will be under the direction of G. L. Klopf, who is confident that he will be able to shape up a winning nine before the Summer's initial fixture. After the workout a meeting of the organization will be held to discuss a number of important questions. They will meet at the park at 1:30.

Definite arrangements have now been made for the game with the all-star California soccer team on Easter Monday at the Oak Bay Park, at 3 o'clock, against the Victoria West Athletic Association. Provision has been made to have the grounds marked out so those in the grandstand can see the position of the play. The locals have been training hard and are hoping to give the southerners a real battle from the start.

Toronto Leafs Even Championship Series With Decisive Victory Over Red Wings—Chicago Black Hawks Defeat Montreal Maroons 3-0 in First of Two-Game Series

By ELMER DULMAGE
Canadian Press Staff Writer.
OLYMPIA, DETROIT, March 28 (CP).—Toronto Maple Leafs smashed the title-bound Red Wings of Detroit, into a devastating 5-1 defeat tonight and sent the National Hockey League championship series into a deadlock of two games each. They will play the fifth and deciding game here Friday night.

Soundly thumped ever since they returned from Toronto after putting over surprising victories in the first two games of the series, the Red Wings collapsed tonight. The Leafs flattened them with a display of power that left most of the crowd of 14,000 spectators doubtful whether there is anything that can be done about it.

MASTERFUL COMEBACK
It was not merely a repitition of Monday night's 3-1 triumph. Rather it was a masterful comeback effort that overshadowed anything the Leafs have done in three seasons of play. Every attacking division carried dynamite and each exploded it with nearly every pass.

From the start of the first period, the Canadian stars winners cut loose with speed that stunned the crowd. The Wings had nothing in stock to keep pace. The veteran George Hainsworth handled the puck only twice in the entire first period.

Joe Primeau, the leading spirit in this most sensational of all hockey comebacks, scored for Leafs a few seconds after a penalty by Burr Williams left the Wings short-handed. He took a double pass from Ken Doraty and Harold Cotton, skated from behind the Detroit net to get straight in front of the cage, and drilled a back-hander past young Wilf Cude.

The Wings threatened only a few times to erase that lead, and in the second period increased it when Charlie Conacher blasted a bullet-like shot into the net from ten feet out. Little Eddie Wiseman was serving the second Detroit penalty of the game when Conacher bagged this second goal.

RIDDLE DEFENCE
There was no need of more scoring, but, as the defending champions rattled the home defence with piercing drives, goals were inevitable. They came suddenly early in the third period. It was not quite a deluge, but it might as well have been. Only poor shooting from close range kept the Toronto score down to reasonable proportions.

Not in any National Hockey League play-off series has a team come from behind after losing the first two games and won the title. The Leafs can accomplish it by winning the fifth game, and they are taking the difficult way.

At home they lost by 2-1 in overtime and by 6-3. They came into Detroit and evened the series. Tonight they are fairly heavy favorites to put over the third straight victory. King Clancy, the "hard luck" man of the series, who has won the defence, even though his face may be covered with bandages and adhesive tape. The King, who missed the third series game because of a sprained thumb, went into tonight's struggle hardly in shape to handle a stick.

He turned in several dazzling rushes in the first period. Then he and Doug Young, burly Red Wing, were taken out of the game.

Cowichan Women Golfers to Play Macaulay Squad
Women members of the Cowichan Golf Club, Duncan, will play an inter-club match with Macaulay Point Golf Club, next Wednesday. Prior to the match, the visitors will be entertained at the Hudson's Bay for luncheon by the home team.

Jones' Restoration Fails
The restoration "coup" of Emperor Jones, golf wizard and acknowledged master four years ago, has apparently proved unsuccessful, for Bobby was far down in the list at the masters' tournament, trusty driver, playing a round with Sandy Somerville, Canadian star. Bobby's driver was in form, but "Calamity Jane," his putter, no longer carried the punch that it did in former years.

PROTEST IN VAIN
Hooley Smith swung at the puck from a scramble and it seemed to some of the fans to go into the Chicago cage and out again. The Maroons, led by Smith, protested vigorously when no score was called, but the goal umpire refused to change his decision that the puck was not in the cage.

Maroons scrambled furiously in front of Gardiner without success. Twice the Hawks fought off Maroons while short-handed. Big Lionel Conacher, Roger Jenkins, Art Coulter and Taffy Abel put up an effective barrier and broke up many Maroon rushes with stiff bodychecks.

Line-ups
Chicago Position Maroons
Goalkeeper—Kerr
Defence—Wentworth, Jenkins, Mackenzie
Centre—Smith
Wing—Ward
Wing—Northcott
Chicago Subs: Abel, Sheppard, Couture, Goldworthy, Cook, Gotschell, McPadden, Trudel and Coulter.
Maroon Subs: Prev, Evans, Trotter, Haynes, Robinson, Starr, Blasco, Kilrea and Cain.
Referee: Dr. McCurry, Toronto; Rubeo Daigneault, Montreal.

Summary
First Period—1, Chicago, Maroons (Thompson), 43. Penalties: Trotter, Abel.
Second Period—No score. Penalties: Conacher, March.
Third Period—2, Chicago, Thompson (Maroons), 1:00; 3, Chicago, McPadden (Gotschell), 3:25. Penalty: Coulter.

MORE WAYS OF LOSING A HOLE
If the Rules of Golf were thoroughly understood and as strictly applied many a golfer would eliminate himself from competition. Tuesday's article summarized some of the many ways in which a golfer may forfeit a hole in match play. There are yet many others. They continue.

The player who plays a stroke while his ball is moving loses the hole except in the case of a ball struck twice, a ball falling on the tee and a ball moving in water. If the ball only begins to move while the player is making his forward or backward swing, he is not penalized. If the ball moves after a loose impediment lying within one club length through the green has been touched; if the player's ball is accidentally moved by the player's side in searching for it, or when the ball is on the putting green, it moves after any loose impediment lying within six inches has been touched or moved by the player's side.

A player loses the hole if, before striking at his ball in play, he improves his position by his play by moving, bending or breaking anything fixed or growing except (1) so far as is necessary to permit him fairly to take his stance in addressing the ball, or (2) in making his forward or backward swing. Note the amendment to this rule—the player now must not "improve the position of his ball." He is only permitted to ground his club lightly and may not press it on the ground.

If the player's ball strikes or is touched by an opponent or his caddy or his club, the opponent loses the hole except as otherwise provided in the rules.

The player loses the hole if his ball strikes himself, his partner or either of their caddies or fore-caddies.
A player who plays his opponent's ball loses the hole unless the opponent then plays player's ball and the penalty is cancelled by the hole being played out with the balls so exchanged. This penalty is also cancelled if the error is due to the opponent or his caddy having given wrong information.

The hole is forfeited if a player plays with a ball belonging to anyone outside the match unless he discovers his mistake and intimates

THE VICTORIA BASEBALL CLUB will hold a workout at the Oak Bay grounds this afternoon for the first time this season. It was announced yesterday by club officials. Their training will be under the direction of G. L. Klopf, who is confident that he will be able to shape up a winning nine before the Summer's initial fixture. After the workout a meeting of the organization will be held to discuss a number of important questions. They will meet at the park at 1:30.

Definite arrangements have now been made for the game with the all-star California soccer team on Easter Monday at the Oak Bay Park, at 3 o'clock, against the Victoria West Athletic Association. Provision has been made to have the grounds marked out so those in the grandstand can see the position of the play. The locals have been training hard and are hoping to give the southerners a real battle from the start.

MOUNT ALLISON IN 34-34 CAGE DRAW

MONCTON HAWKS REACH ALLAN CUP HOCKEY FINAL

DEFENDING CHAMPS DROP SECOND GAME 2-1 BUT WIN ROUND

Hamilton Tigers Outplay Moncton Hawks in Second Encounter to Win But Lose Two-Game Series 3-2 to Maritime Champions—Winners to Meet Fort William

By A. E. FULFORD
Canadian Press Staff Writer.
TORONTO, March 28 (CP).—A fighting Hamilton Tiger team that never knew it was beaten, came within a goal tonight of eliminating Moncton Hawks from the Allan Cup play-downs.

Tigers outplayed and outplayed the 1933 national champions to win the game, 2-1, but lost the round, 3-2. Moncton's victory in the two-game, total-goal series qualified them to defend the cup against Fort William Blue Shirts, Western winners, in the final, starting here Saturday.

Hamilton's amazing comeback, inspired by the return to play of Red Farrell, injured defence ace, swept them into a two-goal second-period lead, which they defended tenaciously until Goalie "Hawse" Marsh, dazed by a shot that opened a five-act cut in his forehead, was beaten by Bill Miller's shot late in the third period.

TIGERS SHOW FIGHT
In contrast to their showing Monday, when they shut out the Ontario Hockey Association champions, 2-0, and always seemed to be holding themselves in reserve, Moncton had nothing tonight to match the fight the underdog Tigers dragged from their band of crippled players.

The line-ups:
Hamilton—Goal, Marsh; defence, Howard, Radke; centre, Conick; wing, Bennett, Blake Subi; Worth, Chisholm, Fitzgerald, Farrell.
Moncton—Goal, Foster; defence, Olli, Burrage; centre, Irvine; wing, McDonald, Connolly, Subi, Webster, Miller, McManus, James.
Officials—Davin and Sauve, Montreal.

Summary
First Period—No score. Penalties: Gill 2, Farrell.
Second Period—1, Hamilton, Worth (Fitzgerald), 2:17; 2, Hamilton, Howard, 4:45. Penalties: Gill, Radke, McManus, Howard.
Third Period—3, Moncton Hawks, Miller (James), 14:28. Penalties: Radke, Howard 2, James, Fitzgerald.

Semi-Finals of Cage Series to Be Held Tonight

SEMI-FINAL rounds of the Winter Cup knockout basketball series will take place tonight at the Memorial Hall, starting at 7:45 o'clock. In the first game, Regents will oppose Lake Hill, while Young Blue Ribbons will take on Slingers, senior "A" quintette in the second match, which will get under way at 8:45. With the teams playing to usual form, two fast fixtures should be witnessed and a good crowd is expected.

Soccer Chatter

By A.P.A.N.

Exit Equimall! A pity they are out of the province series, but then someone had to go, and it cannot be said that they deserved anything better on the day's play. Only for a short time in the second period did they show anything like winning form.

And all this, in spite of heroic efforts on the part of Hay and Boyd, these two, with DeCosta and Tom Watt, did all the good work that we could expect, but the rest of the team seemed to lack extra little bit of pep which many a time would have meant success.

Their other fault was too much bunching. At times they even blocked their own teammates' shots and passes, and many a well-placed centre went begging because Watt or someone had no room to turn round in, and that is a fault we do not expect from Equimall.

Saanich, on the other hand, played a wide open game with long passes from wing to wing, and they showed plenty of thrustful strategy. Freddy Gibbons, on the left, started several dangerous attacks that would have beaten any other than the Equimall defence.

Both goalies played their usual spectacular game. Ronnie Williams improves week by week, and Viggers spoils first the opponents' goal, then his own play by his indiscriminate kicking of the ball.

Every week serves to show the weakness of our present substitute line, many of the fans not realizing how it affects the players. Take, for instance, the case of Stoffer. For about four minutes at the beginning he was on the field; then arrived Joe Chow, Stoffer retired, and he departed from any further football for the day.

The junior game that followed was full of action and incident, but it is difficult to work up enthusiasm about a bunch of seasoned players, bigger and faster on the whole than the seniors, calling themselves juniors.

Surely boys who should be playing in junior ball are debarré when they find themselves in company of that kind. The great majority of the Ladysmith and Dundee men are too old and too experienced for boys' football. And the Jokers should either move up into senior company as teams or allow their time to do so.

We shall not have quite as much football this week-end as in the Old Country, but we shall have a fair share; two games on Friday and an inter-city at Vancouver on Saturday will keep us on the hop.

On form, Victoria United should be favorites for Saturday's game. They have shown that, home or away, they can rise to the occasion, and I should not be at all surprised if this time they go one better and win on a foreign ground.

The other teams in the Pacific League may have more notable names on their lists, but I question if any team has a more reliable defence line than DeCosta, Watt and Gibbons. This alone assures us that no team can walk over them.

Nor will our halfback line take second place to any; McBain, Barnes and Williams are all on top of their form just now and in spite of the funny things some say, there is no element of luck in their play. The Vancouver scribbles may say, but they are not the players' fault.

It is still difficult to understand why John Watt is only on the substitute list; but in spite of that, we have an attack that, backed as it is by such a fine half line, should be able to score enough goals to give us a win.

Football in the Old Country is enjoying a sensational comeback, all attendance records for cup-ties have been high above those of 1933, and the final, with North and South represented, is certain to be an extra big affair.

In answer to this, we hear the criticism that football is a spectacle may be a great success, but is that good for a game? To which we must reply that the greater the interest taken in the progress of professional games, the greater is the popularity of the game as a whole.

This leads to more satisfactory support given to the smaller clubs and leagues, and most telling of all, it reacts on the progress of the most important football of all; the small country towns and villages, where teams and school competitions.

Publicity will never do any harm to a game like ours. Very few able-bodied youngsters are content to watch players, paid or unpaid, if there is any chance of themselves getting on to the field and working off a week's storage of energy.

In other words, there may have been a couple of hundred thousand watching football last week, but who knows, or who can find out how many thousands more were playing the game. For the glory of these thousands of unreported players and their games I have borrowed words of praise from the late Thomas Gray:

"Far from the madding crowds which grandstands fill,
Their sober wishes never learn to stray;
On village green or up on Beacon Hill,
They play the unreported game today."

The Fragments Cup has yet to be lost in the final Friday night game. Again I would like to point out to senior clubs and officials that this is the only important competition being run for the advancement of schoolboy soccer; the rugger has several interesting competitions which are strongly backed by senior organizations. What are we going to do about it?

One more chattering added at the last minute: The final of the Fragments Cup will have to be replayed; Oak Bay went ahead in irresistible style in the first half. After the interval, Saanich, by superior football, heaped on the whiteshirts, who have a stubborn defence to thank for their escape from defeat. In the overtime both teams played a desperate game, and the big crowd enjoyed moments of thrilling suspense. Some football for the seniors to watch.

PERCY WILLIAMS TO MANAGE TEAM

Vancouver Hero of 1928 Olympics to Succeed Kerr as Track and Field Head

HAMILTON, March 28 (CP).—Although he has not yet informed the committee of his intentions, it seems assured that Percy Williams of this city, will forego the position of manager of the joint track and field team to represent Canada in the British Empire Games this coming summer.

Kerr has intimated he cannot accept the post, and if he notifies the committee of this officially, there will be no changes made in the suggested personnel of the officials.

However, in the event Kerr does go, a successor will not be named. Instead, Percy Williams will be manager of the men's track and field team, with Harry Gillard, of this city, as assistant, and Alex Wilson, of Montreal, as coach. The only change in the suggested lineup would then come so far as the girls' team is concerned, and a coach for the fair sex will be named to have charge with Miss Alexander Gibb, of Toronto, and Mrs. Frier, of Edmonton.

Miss Manny Rosenfeld, of Toronto, will probably get first call as coach of the girls, an appointment that would at once meet with favor.

BASEBALL NOTES

TAMPA, Fla.—Ernie Lombardi seems destined to do a lot of catching for the Cincinnati Reds this season, despite what plans Manager Bob O'Farrell might have had.

O'Farrell had intended to do most of the back-stopping, but the Italian has been walloping the ball so hard and performing behind the plate so well that the player-manager has changed his mind.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla.—Bill Terry has about given up hope that William Watson Clark, veteran catcher, will be of much assistance to the New York Giants this season.

Clark, troubled by an arm injury last year, thought the fault had been cured during the winter. But he's had trouble with it almost since training began.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—A new "murderers' row" for the New York Yankees appears to be in the making.

In the first seven exhibition games, the five top men in the battery order, Don Heffner, Bob Rolfe, Babe Ruth, Lou Gehrig and Ben Chapman, all hit at better than 300 clip. Ruth topped them all at 468.

MOOSE JAW, Sask., March 28 (CP).—Regina Caps won the Saskatchewan basketball championship in an easy canter tonight by defeating Moose Jaw "Y" in the second game of the series, 34-16, and winning the round by 86-46. They meet the winners of British Columbia-Alberta in the first game of the play-downs, April 14.

ST. LOUIS TO BASE HOPES ON PITCHERS

Cardinals Will Depend on Mound Staff to Bring Them Through to Flag

By ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor.
BRADENTON, Fla., March 28 (AP).—If the pitching staff of St. Louis Cardinals registers as effectively over this year's National League took-up as it has been doing in Florida, another pennant song may echo along the banks of the old Missouri.

Two straight seasons in the second division since their world championship conquest of 1931, with a ball club that figured to do much better, has agitated Sam Breadon and Branch Rickey, who conduct the far-flung affairs of the Cardinal organization. Since they put their celebrated "farm system" on the map with a triumph over New York Yankees in 1926, they have given St. Louis four pennant winners and two world champions. Now that another flag-winner is overdue, according to their calculations, the issue has been put squarely upon the broad shoulders of the one-time Fordham flash, Frankie Frisch, and his cast of curvers.

COUNTING ON VETERANS
In addition to Dizzy Dean and Tex Carleton, Frisch is counting upon come-backs by "Wild Bill" Hallahan, Jesse Haines, and even the old spitballer, Burleigh Grimes. In addition to first-string service from Dean's younger brother, Paul Dean.

Besides Frisch himself, the key men of the club otherwise are Virgil Davis, the big backstop from the Phillies; Pepper Martin, at third base, and Joe Merwick, the free-swinging young outfield slugger. The infield rounds out with Jim Collins at first and Leo Durocher at short. Pat Crawford is in reserve, especially for pinch-hitting, and Frisch likes two of the recruits, Burgess Whitehead and Lewis Riggs, both from Columbus.

Based on the Broadway stage hit "Oh, Promise Me," by Bertram Robinson and Howard Lindsay, it is by far the most uproarious of the popular Summerville-Pitts co-starring comedies, produced by Universal.

EMPIRE "Maedchen in Uniform," the sensational German talking picture, the current feature at the Empire Theatre, with sub-titles in English, comes with unprecedented praise from the public and the press of the countries of Europe, where it has already scored an outstanding success.

The unusual story of motherless Manuela von Meinhardt, who is enrolled by her aunt in a grim Prussian boarding school, where she develops a tragic affection for the favorite schoolmaster, has aroused a veritable storm of discussion throughout England and the Continent.

"Speed Wings" Is Now at Columbia

Coming to the Columbia Theatre today is "Speed Wings," the Columbia action thriller, starring Colonel Tim McCoy, which depicts the attempt of a band of American aviators to bring the world's speed record back to the United States.

"Speed Wings" which was written by Horace McCoy, is replete with thrills and exciting situations. There are at least a dozen or more dramatic episodes, fight scenes, and aviation stunts, all guaranteed to make you gasp with suspense.

From "Maedchen in Uniform" to "Miss Fane's Baby Is Stolen," the screen leap that has been achieved by Dorothea Wieck, Paramount's new Continental star.

The film, "Miss Fane's Baby Is Stolen," is the second feature. Alice Brady is co-starring with Miss Wieck, while Baby LeRoy, Jack LaRue, Alan Hale and Dorothy Burgess are featured.

NOTED OPERA HAS MANY FINE SCENES

The Victoria Operatic Society was formed in 1930, and in the four years of its existence has produced the operas "Boccaccio," "The Bohemian Girl," "Robin Hood," "The Mikado" and "A Fantomine Rehearsal" (a review).

Now it is staging its most production, when it presents "The Yeomen of the Guard" on Friday and Saturday, April 6 and 7.

All the society's appearances have been on the stage of the Royal Victoria and the scenery and staging have been painted and made in Victoria. Many of the costumes have been done by the artists connected with the theatre and this group of players, and the production of "The Yeomen of the Guard" will have the benefit of the art and skill of these same workers. A copy of the Tower of London will be presented and the chorus of wardens in the traditional uniforms will be a very prepossessing sight.

ROYAL WEDDING IS HIGHLIGHT OF FILM

The marriage of the Princess Sophie of Anhalt-Zerbst, later Catherine II, to the half-mad Grand Duke Peter of Russia offered London Films an opportunity to create what is undoubtedly one of the most spectacular scenes ever flashed upon a screen in their latest historical romance, "Catherine the Great," coming to the Dominion Theatre tomorrow.

The complete interior of a Russian church, including the vivid and colored paintings of the saints and the ornate gold columns and scroll work of the altar screen, was constructed for this scene for which Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., and Elizabeth

Mr. George S. Hellman, well known to lovers of literature and art, aptly declares the gist of his bidding is based on the proposition that "every bid is a bet, the odds of which are determined by the relation of hands to the score and the players." Recently he was a helpless victim of the most excellent principle which he so aptly stated.

The lesson was administered to him by Mr. Clarence W. Watson, former United States Senator from West Virginia, who certainly in his time in the Senate was the best bridge player in that august body, and is one of the best and keenest anywhere.

DYNAMITE BOMB WRECKS BUILDING

Near-Panlo Starts in Adjoining Theatre—Policemen Narrowly Escapes With Life

SAN FRANCISCO, March 28 (AP).—A dynamite bomb wrecked a real estate building and started a near-panic in an adjoining theatre in the San Francisco peninsula town of Mountain View late last night.

Policeman Arthur Ewell, who had gone to the roof of the building to investigate smoke fumes, escaped death by minutes. He had scarcely reached the ground when the bomb exploded, the concussion knocking him to the earth.

Windows and skylights of adjoining structures were shattered and glass rained in the streets. A threatened panic of patrons of the Mountain View Theatre was halted when the building was hailed.

The interior of the real estate office, owned by William P. Wright, prominent real estate man of the locality, was demolished and a jagged hole torn in the roof. Sheriff William J. Egan expressed belief that the bombing was "spite work."

He said Wright's barn and tool shed on his nearby ranch were recently wrecked by an explosion. The police said two men were seen in the vicinity of the real estate office shortly before the detonation.

MARINE, RAIL and AIR

ARMY CHIEF
BOUND HOME

Commissioner W. H. Mapp
Returning to London
After Tour of Orient

Constantly on the move in the interests of the world-wide organization with which he is identified, Commissioner W. H. Mapp, chief executive officer of Salvation Army, with headquarters in London, was a through passenger on the Ss. Empress of Canada, which arrived here early yesterday morning from Orient ports. He is returning home following a five months' tour of Far East lands in which members of the order are laboring for the benefit of mankind.

Speaking of conditions in general, Commissioner Mapp stated things were improving gradually, and that everywhere there was a more hopeful outlook; not only that trade may revive, but that peace on earth and goodwill toward men will prevail.

He marveled at the strides Japan had made in the last twenty years. Then he was in charge of the order's work in that country. At that time the population was in the neighborhood of sixty millions; now it is around ninety millions, and the whole land is a hive of industry.

The leaders of Japan had to provide an outlet for its ever-growing surplus of human beings, and they pointed to the manner in which other countries had secured colonial possessions to take care of excess populations.

ARE CONTENTED
In Manchukuo, the Salvation Army chief said he found the people apparently contented with the new order, while conditions were still far from settled in China. The Chinese would find themselves one day, he felt, as they were eager to get ahead and bring order out of the more or less chaotic conditions prevailing at present.

Speaking of the work of the Salvation Army in Oriental lands, Commissioner Mapp stated that its missionaries lived among the people they taught, had no concessions or privileges of any kind, and many of them had become experts in Oriental languages, talking the various varieties as good as the natives. They constituted a splendid body of men and women, and were achieving wonderful results.

The Salvation Army chief will spend a day in Vancouver, and then go East to Toronto, where he will remain an entire week. Going from there to New York, he will stop over in the American metropolis for the same length of time before embarking for London. He is accompanied by Adjutant W. A. D. C. Commissioner Mapp was met here on the arrival of the Canada by Brigadier Albert E. Daisiel, divisional officer, who arrived from Vancouver on Tuesday afternoon. Local members of the order, headed by Adjutant Thierstein, were also at the pier to greet their chief executive officer from London.

Vancouver Shipping

VANCOUVER, March 28 (CP)—The Nordval is due Saturday to Pacific Freighters, Ltd.

Dingwall Cotts & Company reports Ss. Point Bonita has left Woodward's Landing and shifted to Powell River. She will arrive at Vancouver on April 2.

Tacoma-Oriental Line Ss. Bellingham is due at quarantine today and is expected to arrive on Burrard Inlet late this afternoon or early this evening. She is inbound from North China with oil and peanuts for Vancouver loading.

At noon on Tuesday next, the steamer Canadian Beaver and Canadian Farmer will be offered for sale at public auction in the office of W. B. Cochrane, deputy marshal, British Columbia Admiralty District, at the Court House. The ships are being sold in the winding up process of the Great Lakes Intercoastal Line, Ltd. They are offered, subject to a reserve bid.

Reports are received today that the steamer Arwyco, owned by General Navigation Company of Canada, has been sold to Captain M. Garcia, of Port Arthur, Texas, and will be used in lumber inter-coastal trade on the Gulf of Mexico. This makes two side ships sold off Burrard Inlet in the last fortnight.

A short time ago the auxiliary schooner Malahat was sold to Vancouver interests to go into lumber carriage on this coast. Now the Arwyco is sold. The latter vessel will not leave for some time as she is to undergo overhaul to bring her to classification. The work will be done at Burrard Drydock Company, Ltd., yards, North Vancouver, where both the Arwyco and the Malahat were laid up during the past year or more.

Two halibut boats came in overnight, and sold 24,000 pounds of fish at the Fish Exchange sale this morning. They were the Twinkle and the Westview. Twinkle sold 1,500 chicken at $1.75 medium and $1.80 large at 45¢. Westview sold 2,000 chicken at $1.90 medium and $2.00 large at 45¢.

Canadian Transport Company, Ltd., reports Ms. Hesperange due to sail March 31 from Halifax for Vancouver and Victoria.

Yorkshire Flyer Will Attempt to Make New Record

LONDON, March 28 (CP)—On a solo flight to Australia, H. L. Brooke, Yorkshire airman, left Lympne, early today, flying the "Heart's Content," the machine made famous by Captain James Molson in his flight to Canada in 1932.

Brooke is entering the air race from London to Melbourne, Australia, for which prizes of $75,000 are offered in connection with the centenary of Victoria State, and his present flight is in the nature of a survey of the course.

If the weather and other circumstances are favorable, however, Brooke says he will attempt to break the record for an England-Australia flight, hung up by Captain T. P. Uim last year, 6 days, 17 hours, 56 minutes.

Canada Sustains
Some Damage in Yokohama Harbor

FOR repairs following damage sustained when the liner encountered some submerged obstruction while under way in Yokohama Harbor recently, the Canadian Pacific liner Ss. Empress of Canada will enter the Government drydock at Esquimalt tomorrow evening. The Canada will arrive late in the afternoon, and as soon as the dock is pumped out, Yarrow's Limited, who have the repairs in hand, will start mechanics on the work. They will be employed night and day until several plates have been repaired. It is expected the Canada will be at Esquimalt for several days.

MAKING ROUND OF INSPECTION

Imperial Army Officer Paying Visits to British Army Establishments

Col. Sir Francis Napier Elphinstone-Dalrymple, who is making an inspection tour of British military establishments in various parts of the world, reached Victoria yesterday morning aboard the Ss. Empress of Canada, from Hongkong. He spent some time in India and Singapore, he stated, and will proceed to Jamaica before returning to England.

Sir Francis told newspapermen that his inspection duties had to do with the "kita" of the forces. It was entirely routine work and his present tour had no special significance. Questioned as to the possibility of trouble developing in the Far East he smilingly replied, "I am everywhere; and while it was quite possible that war would prevail in the end, in the present temper of the world anything might happen."

Sir Francis Dalrymple served with the British forces during the Great War. He was in the artillery, and was in France "for a year and a bit," he stated, and then went to Gallipoli. He was mentioned in dispatches for his services in 1918; the Serbian White Eagle, the Crown of Italy, and was created a C.B.E. in 1922.

COURT ASKED TO SETTLE DISPUTE

Nanaimo Lawyers Argue Case Affecting Comox Waterfront in Supreme Court Here

In the Supreme Court here, Mr. Justice H. B. Robertson is hearing evidence in a dispute between adjoining property owners in the Comox district, on what is known as the Kye Bay. The allegation by the plaintiff to the action, W. A. B. Paul, is that the defendant, F. H. Bales, of Vancouver, principal of the Chesterfield School, has trespassed on the lands of the plaintiff, who asked for an injunction to restrain further trespass and to allow the plaintiff access to the foreshore which, it is alleged, has been cut off by the action of the defendant.

The main point of dispute is with respect to a triangular piece of waterfront. The plaintiff alleges that there has been a silting up of the bay and that the high water mark has receded approximately 100 feet in recent years. He alleges that the defendant erected a barbed-wire fence on the accreted lands of the plaintiff.

The defence denies that there has been this accretion of land as alleged, and even if there has been such, that there has been no ground for damages.

The case will be in progress over today, at least.

Little Bedtime Stories

What Bobby Coon and Billy Mink Did

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

Bobby Coon and Billy Mink sat on an old log on the bank of the Laughing Brook and talked over the traps Billy Mink had discovered and what should be done about them.

"Of course," said Billy Mink, "you and I are safe enough. We know exactly where those traps are and we are not going to be so foolish as to get caught in one of them. But there are others who travel up and down the Laughing Brook who might not discover the traps until too late."

Bobby Coon nodded. "Just what I was thinking," said he. "But for you, Billy Mink, I would be in that trap down there this very minute. It was stupid of me not to have suspected that that little opening in that fence was left purposely to tempt whoever came along to go through it instead of climbing the fence to climb that steep bank and go around the fence. There may be others just as stupid. We ought to do something about it, but what can we do?"

"Are you afraid to go near that trap?" demanded Billy.

Bobby scratched his head thoughtfully. "How near?" he asked.

"Near enough to get your paw under it," replied Billy.

"I don't know," replied Bobby.

"Well, you see," replied Billy, "that trap is set right in the middle of that little opening and it has been covered with wet, dead leaves. Now I know something about traps. I've seen a lot of them in my day. If anyone should go down those wet leaves, two steel jaws would snap up and grab him by the leg. But those steel jaws always snap up. They can't snap the other way. If your paw is underneath the trap there is no danger. By doing this you can lift that trap up so that it will no longer be covered with those dead leaves, and whoever comes along will see it. It isn't safe to try to pull the leaves off of it because you might get caught doing it. If you will do that to the trap on this side I will do the same thing to the trap on the other side of the Laughing Brook. If you're afraid just say so and I'll take care of both traps."

"All right, let's get busy," cried Billy Mink, jumping up.

Now Bobby Coon was afraid, because, you see, he had never had anything to do with traps. But he wasn't willing to own up to that he was afraid. He knew that if he showed that he was afraid he never would hear the end of it, for Billy Mink would be sure to tell everybody he knew. He thought the matter over for a few minutes and then grunted: "I guess if you can do it, I can."

"All right, let's get busy," cried Billy Mink, jumping up. "I don't want to spend the rest of the night sitting around here."

So Billy Mink swam across the Laughing Brook, and Bobby Coon slowly shuffled along on his side down toward the little fence where the trap was set.

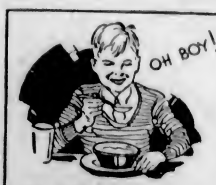

Next story: Bobby Coon Gets a Fight.

The smile that went come off.

CHAPTER XXIII

The news that Mari, the marvelous, was critically ill flashed all over Paris. It provided a conversational topic for drawing-rooms, hotels, restaurants and at the tables under the blooming chestnuts.

The nature of her illness was not quite clear. It seemed to be a nervous breakdown. The celebrated specialist, Dr. Henry Matier, had made a most cautious statement in Le Temps, so guarded indeed that there was really no specific information. Yet it was whispered that Mari had suffered a shock of some kind—such a shock that her reason was threatened.

Reporters sought Judell and endeavored to interview him. He merely shook his head, stating quite truthfully that Etta, Mari's maid, had called him on the telephone early in the morning with the news that Mari had collapsed. He had immediately called Dr. Matier. The physician had given him no more information than he had the public.

Louis Beaubien, of Le Matin, more enterprising than his fellow waylaid Etta as she went to market and tried to question her. She looked at him blankly. He extended a gold piece to her—a most precious gold piece since it was the last he had in the world.

"You want me to talk 'bout Miss Mari?" demanded the colored woman.

"Yes," answered Beaubien. "I want what you call the low-down—ze dirt."

"De dirt!" Etta leaped at him and from somewhere came a knife. The next instant, Beaubien was in full flight. His adventure made a story—but gave his readers no additional information concerning Mari.

The story did not add to Beaubien's prestige as a journalist. It was looked upon as an attempt to be facetious with Mari, and Mari was the toast of Paris. Her illness was a matter of great concern. So for days thereafter Beaubien's editor received letters, which made him walk the floor of his office and tear his hair.

Loads of flowers reached Mari's apartment. Etta, on the advice of Judell who kept in constant contact with her on the telephone, promptly sent them to various hospitals. Otherwise the six rooms would have overflowed with costly blooms.

Judell did not go to the apartment. Dr. Matier's orders were that no one to be admitted. Etta took a doctor's orders literally. Expensive limousines drew up to the door and men of prominence, men with red ribbons in their buttonholes, expensively clothed young men, dignified, grey-bearded men were turned away. Women came also—determined women who argued with Etta only to find the door closed in their faces.

Etta had far more to do than to answer the door and telephone. But she uttered no complaint. On his arrival, Dr. Matier suggested that a trained nurse be called, and stepped to the telephone. But Etta stopped him. She knew all about nursing, she told the physician, and being qualified she purposed to act as nurse for her employer.

Matier studied her earnestly for a minute or more and knowing more than mere medicine nodded affirmatively and not without admiration. "In your hands, I think the mademoiselle will have excellent care—most excellent care. But it will be day and night and—"

"Day and night an' Sundays," declared Etta. "She's my missy."

Matier smiled gravely. After all, nothing could be done save watch over Mari and give nature a chance.

Mari came slowly out of a confused world—a world in which a woman in a shimmering gown with a black mountain background, with moonlight and sweet night air—and in a world in which she heard singing, constant singing, a chant that brought terror to her—the death chant of the Moirai.

When at last she opened her tired eyes, she was clinging to the hand of Etta. That was a relief since Mari was real and Etta was her friend. She smiled weakly at Etta and wondered why tears filled the eyes of her maid. But even in her confused state, those tears seemed to be happy rather than sad.

Slowly she began to piece things together. She had seen Kuan. Had seen Kuan in the Bois de Boulogne.

Kuan had fled from her. Had vanished among the trees. What strange gods to bring Kuan from Tahiti to Paris that he might—That he might flee from her! She gave a little cry.

Etta arose hastily and brought her a glass.

"Drink dis, miss, it'll make you all feel better."

Mari drank. The poison soothed her. But it made things clearer. It had not been Kuan she had seen. Kuan was dead! Kuan had died because she had left Moala. On Kuan was the mark of the Moirai. A drowsiness eased her pain and her eyes closed.

Mari was awakened, a grave, kindly man was bending over her bed.

"Do you know me?" he asked.

"I have been ill? That is strange—I am never sick," said Mari.

"You have been very ill. For a week, there was a question—but you are better now."

"I am better now, doctor."

"Does it tire you to talk to me?"

"It rests me, doctor. It has been so strange—the world, the world did not seem real. I was here and I was not here. But now I am here—with you."

Etta smiled, his fine features relaxing. "You said just now, 'I am Dr. Matier—your physician.'"

"I am Dr. Matier—your physician."

"But Kuan is dead!"

"Ah!" Dr. Matier glanced at Etta and then again looked at Mari.

"I am Dr. Matier—your physician."

"Yes, doctor."

"Was Kuan your—"

"I shall always—"

"Quiet, please, Miss Mari. I understand now—I understand all. The human brain is a very delicate thing—a shock and the fine mechanism is thrown all out of adjustment."

Mari looked at him with a question in her eyes.

"I do not mean that you are crazy, mademoiselle. But you have been living a very intensive, nerve-straining life—your art you know. It makes demands on you just as my profession does on me. You do not know it at the time because the effect is gradual—cumulative. I should say. We go along as if we were normal and then—nature asserts herself. We find that we are burned out."

"Burned out—" Mari's words ended in a sigh.

"I will leave you now, mademoiselle, there is nothing I can do. After all, medical science has its limitations—in the end we must depend on nature. You are young, strong—very soon now Paris will have her Mari again."

He took her hand and kissed it. "You see," he remarked with a smile, "though a scientist, I'm a human. To me, as to all Paris, you are Mari."

He arose, bowed and left—hastily. Mari's eyes closed in a dream.

She awoke refreshed. But again she thought of the strange gods—the gods that had taken her Kuan, but her, to Paris. But even if it was only dust—had he not been shattered to bits when she swooned while praying to him—before she had lost her job at the Elysium?

Strangely, however, she wanted to live, to keep on living. She could not understand it since if she died she would go to the gods and Kuan.

Dr. Matier telephoned and after questioning Etta in detail as to Mari's condition, said she could have visitors. Visitors, not more than one at a time, would help her to recover, he told her, since if she died she would go to the gods and Kuan.

Mari did not care for visitors. She wanted to be alone, to be alone and rest, with no one staring at her, with no one bowing before her, with no one kissing her hand.

"But de doctor knows," insisted Etta.

"Very well," said Mari, her voice indicating that it mattered not. She couldn't decide whom she would see.

Judell settled that. As soon as he had talked with Dr. Matier over the telephone, he hurried to the apartment and Mari.

He complimented Mari on her speedy recovery and talked with her lightly, jokingly, as if he would inspire cheer, his eyes always on her face and his words somewhat jerky.

Her place was being kept open for her at Pierre's, he said; the management was praying for her quick return. Business had been alarmingly behind the silk ropes, there were empty tables. But she was not to hurry—she was to return only when there was no question that she had recovered entirely—when Dr. Matier pronounced her physically fit.

Mari noted the new solicitousness in his tone and at first could not understand it. Then she thought she did—if she did not work her salary stopped, she looked into Judell's face and decided that that was not so. She didn't care to dance, to be the centre of public attention. But she had to—there was nothing else to do. So she smiled at him.

He did a curious thing. He dropped to his knees and with his forehead against her rounded arm began to tell her what a rotter he was, how he had spoiled on Fairchild on the Flamingo, how he had aided Herzman in gyping Fairchild out of his $25,000 interest in the revue and how, from Herzman for making the sale to Logan, had doubled the price to Logan and thus made an extra $25,000 for himself.

"It was that money that financed us," he said, his voice broken. "I'm going to pay it back and go straight from now on."

"Why?" asked Mari, wondering.

"Because I love you, Mari—I love you and want you to marry me."

She turned her head. Judell had not loved her, she told herself—he, like so many others, was merely a victim of what he had created.
